

WEST OAKLAND, Aug. 15.—Everything was at a standstill at Sunset last this morning when the members of Local
No. 34, Commercial Telegraphers' Union of America heard the reading of reports and no word of encouragement from Chicago, where President Small is attending a conference which is supposed will bring about means of arbitration between the two telegraph companies which will prevent the spreading of the strikes. The strike here could be brought on at any time.

The American public will be informed before midnight as to the result of the Chicago conference. It is doubtful, however, if the telegraphers, that a general strike can be averted. Ethelbert B. Neff, an assistant to Labor Commissioner Neff, was in conference with L. N. Miller at the Western Union headquarters this morning, gathering data for the settlement of labor and commerce of the United States government.

JOHNSON TO QUIT THE PROSECUTION

Disgust at Method of Conduct of Recent Cases Said to Be the Cause.

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—As a result of the internal dissensions among the graft prosecution Hiram Johnson is about to withdraw from the legal division of that combination. Johnson's friends give as the main reason for his return to the ordinary practice of the law, disgust at the methods of Heney and Burns in the recent conduct of the graft prosecutions.

It was Johnson who furnished the books and the law in the trials of Schmitz and Ruef, which resulted in the conviction of the former. Heney's contribution was largely in the line of doing tests and a magnificent self-assurance that he is the only honest man in the world. Johnson said to have been much dissatisfied with the course of the prosecution in attacking all jurors who do not return verdicts in accordance with the views and interests of the "big stick" and charging that they have been "fixed."

WILL RETIRE IN TWO WEEKS.
The recent attempts of the prosecution from the Supreme Court of California by insinuating that one of the justices is biased and prejudiced, is not pleasing to the officers of that court who include the ablest members of the bar as well as the pettifoggers of the prosecution. Johnson has been recently to the settlement of the bill of exceptions in which Eugene E. Schmitz will go to the higher courts with an application for a new trial. This settlement has been pending several weeks, although it is supposed to be a speedy proceeding. It is thought, however, that a settlement may be secured within the next two weeks and then Hiram Johnson will retire from the prosecution.

Once the defense went to the court of appeals to get a writ of certiorari, Judge Dunne to settle these bills of exception. Judge Dunne filed an answer declaring his intention of fixing the date and the court of appeals sent the matter back to him without action but remarking with emphasis "If he does not do his duty we will see that he does." Judge Dunne postponed the fixing of the date ten days more and since that time the matter has been dragging along as though the prosecution were afraid to meet the issue in the higher court.

CLAIM TEN ERRORS.
The representatives of Schmitz claim that they will go to the Supreme Court with at least ten errors committed in the trial of Schmitz, any one of which is sufficient to reverse

RUEF NOW THE PURISTS' ALLY

These respondents have been asked by him to interest themselves with the Ryan League. He also explains that he is doing this in accordance with his pledge at the time he was sworn in, to devote his life, but not his ill-gotten property, to the rehabilitation of his native city.

GIVES LYNCH ORDERS.
In the Thirty-fifth district Ruef ordered his man Ed Lynch, who is associated with him in his law office, to join the Ryan forces. Lynch, who has represented Ruef in the mission for several campaigns, joined forces with John Daly, the Ryan man, and the two divided the ten delegates between them. It is reported to have been a joyous sight to witness Ryan and Ruef thus going hand in hand through the Thirty-fifth district sacrificing themselves to civic rejuvenation.

In other districts Ryan and Reform and Ruef and Repentance worked side by side. They got the delegates and the officers that will follow. A few franchises and similar valuable special privileges, for the other martyrs to the cause of restoring San Francisco official life to a high moral plane, may also be included in the sortie on sin.

TENDERLOIN WITH RYAN.
The "Tenderloin" was with the Ryan reformers on primary day in their fight for good government and general civic regeneration. It is said that low license and wide open town were among the inducements offered for the assistance of the purists and gambling interests. Frank Tierney, the saloonman who has had much trouble with the authorities, was active in the reform interests. The new prizefight trust organized since the "big stick" assumed sway in this city was also active for the new missionary society. Eddie Graney and Aleck Gregains, who are supposed to be the greatest pugilistic beneficiaries under the new civic trust, were doing their best for the Ryan ticket in the Thirty-eighth and other districts.

CALLED IT BRIBERY.
The practice of the supervisors being handed money in envelopes after each prizefight was obnoxious to the "big stick," as the prosecution had determined that such transactions were bribery and unlawful. The board of supervisors, while under the domination of the prosecuting missionaries, organized or contributed to the forming of a prizefight trust to which eight clubs were admitted. Two supervisors became members of each of the eight trust clubs. Instead of the city father receiving his "rake-off" in an envelope it came to him as a club member in the form of a dividend. This scheming to thus evade the law met with no opposition from the prosecution and was in vogue until the board supervisors were forced to retire. Whether they will retain their memberships in the clubs with dividend drawing privileges has not yet been indicated. Possibly the supervisors' equities in the prizefight trust reverted to the civic reformers.

WITNESS LONERGAN CAUSES WRANGLE

he hoped to prove. Delmas wanted to see it.

"I told you to read the evidence," said Heney.

"I don't need instruction," retorted Delmas; "but I think we have a right to see the evidence." "It's your copy," said Heney.

"It's the evidence," said Heney.

"I don't want to read the evidence," said Delmas.

"You don't want to read the evidence," replied Heney.

"And what's the use in wasting all this time in talking?"

"I don't know what's the use of your talking," said Delmas. "It doesn't seem to accomplish much."

FOR PROSECUTION.
Judge Lawlor ruled in favor of the prosecution and Lonergan was allowed to testify to a conversation at his house in March.

"Halsey upbraid me and told me I had put him in a bad place with the company by voting for the Home Telephone franchise, and he asked me to give him back the money. I told him he had put me in a bad place with the administration. I agreed to give him back half of the money."

ELABORATES CONFESSION.
By Supervisor Lonergan's elaborate confession, the case of the Ryan League in the Glass trial with several new and interesting details.

One of the new matters was brought out by Attorney Delmas. He asked Lonergan if he had seen the Ryan League members in the Glass trial with several new and interesting details.

TELEGRAPHERS NOW WAIT ON CHICAGO CONFERENCE

Discussing the strike situation in Alameda county at Sunset Hall this morning, Deputy National President Copps said: "I have no word as yet from Chicago, other than that which comes through the newspapers. The local situation remains unchanged, the strike being as complete as ever. We are resting on our oars, not working, and taking life easy. About twenty-five of our men have accepted positions in other lines and at this rate it would not take long for all of our telegraphers on strike here to find other employment, should they so desire."

"Our entertainment committee is getting busy and we will resume the city, amusements, and night life here during the previous trouble. In passing the big union shed at West Oakland yesterday afternoon, it appeared to me that the strikebreakers were really doing nothing. The wires are tied up at the distant end as tightly as they are here, and therefore what operators there have cannot move any business. How long the business men and public of San Francisco and Oakland, with the telegraph monopoly to lay down on a supposed wage scale with its operators, thus causing them loss and inconvenience, remaining a matter to be seen."

NOTHING TO ARBITRATE.
"As I have stated before, there is nothing to arbitrate, and the public should study the situation carefully that they may know more of this public utility and the methods of handling their telegrams. It certainly seems to me that a man should know when his telegram was filed, and when it was sent out. It is not a matter of time consumed in transmission, but the monopoly says not, and the only way to get it is by paying for a second telegram to find out of the far-sighted business and labor world, and it is up to the monopoly now to show its good faith to the public."

MILLER SAYS THERE'S NO CHANCE FOR MEN TO WIN

WEST OAKLAND, Aug. 15.—"There is no chance for the telegraphers to win," said Assistant General Superintendent I. N. Miller of the Western Union Telegraph Company this morning. "The company can stand the strike longer than the union operators. The Western Union people are up to the eyes in the strike. There is no possibility of the striking operators being victorious in the present strike. That is what I will forewarn."

"We are in better shape than at any time since the strike began. As the telegraphers returned seven of our operators yesterday, and two union men returned to their keys this morning. So far as operators are concerned we are well supplied. This morning we have four duplex wires working to Chicago, one with Omaha, one with Denver, one with Portland, and one with Los Angeles."

"If no further obstructions are placed in our way on account of their road officers interfering with the wires, we will, within a few days, be working on a normal basis. Vigorous methods are being taken to prevent any further tampering with our wires."

CLOWRY SAYS 'THE STRIKE IS OVER'

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—The general officers of the two telegraph companies said today that business is moving to all parts of the country and they are having no difficulty in handling everything offered. President Clowry of the Western Union said:

"The strike is over. We are having applications from strikers today, but we are not going to accept them. The Associated Press service is moving under steadily improving conditions. The officers of the union still express confidence and many union operators have applied for re-employment."

RAILROAD OPERATORS GO INTO WESTERN UNION OFFICES

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 15.—Telegraphic communication between Portland and outside points, north, south and east, was somewhat improved yesterday. The service was not so much interrupted as in the days which have passed and a greater volume of business was handled by both companies. The volume of press news was larger and was handled in better shape. The Western Union in this city had several additional operators at work, and the present force is apparently sending business off with some expedition. The strikers are elderly and appear weary of ultimate success. They claim to have the support of the American Federation of Labor and the moral support of the order of Railroad Telegraphers.

RAILROAD OPERATORS.
The fact that two operators from the Oregon Railroad and Navigation Company railway operating department have gone to work for the Western Union has aroused the resentment of the strikers, and they assert that the railroad operators will be drawn into the struggle. A rumor that a message has been sent along the line ordering the railroad telegraphers to strike within forty-eight hours, and that the chairman of the Order of Railroad Telegraphers, member of the National committee, who issued the following notice yesterday addressed to all telegraphers on the lines in Oregon:

"I am requested to observe strictly our agreement with the Southern Pacific company to perform same duties now that you are before the Commercial Telegraphers' strike, nothing more, nothing less. Railroad company asks nothing more."

Many Telegraphers Working Across Bay

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—"Everything is moving along very nicely," said Superintendent Storrier of the Postal Telegraph Company this morning. "We have increased our working force since yesterday and now feel little inconvenience from the strike. I am confident that normal conditions will soon be restored."

WESTERN UNION REPORT.
Superintendent May of the Western Union said: "When the strike occurred here and in Oakland 111 men went out and 110 remained at their keys. At least twenty men have been added to the force, and we are transacting a big volume of business. Our lines were interfered with yesterday at several country stations, but now they are clear and working in good shape. The outlook is very encouraging."

The Associated Press is working without any hindrance, both day and night.

St. Joe Operators Have Gone Out

ST. JOSEPH, Mo., Aug. 15.—Three Western Union operators here walked out this morning upon telegraphic instructions from Kansas City.

Chicago Stock Wires Are at Work Again

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—The telegraph companies today reopened offices on the Board of Trade with comparatively few operators. It is predicted that strikes of brokers' operators will not materialize. Both employers and strikers declare that they will not arbitrate anything.

PORTLAND, Aug. 15.—The boilermakers employed by the Harriman lines in this city returned to work today.

Believe Uncle and Nephew Reconciled

PARIS, Aug. 15.—French opinion generally regards the meeting at Wilhelmshoe yesterday between King Edward and Emperor William as marking another stage in the relaxation of European tensions. This is a disposition to regard it as in the nature of a genuine reconciliation between two sovereigns whose relations have hitherto been notoriously cool.

SPEEDERS ARE TAKEN IN TOW

Chauffeurs in Golden Gate Park Surprised by Watchful Policeman.
(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Police-man Mahoney sprang a surprise upon the speeding chauffeurs yesterday when he transferred his field of operation from Sutter street to Golden Gate Park. The automobile men along Sutter street were very orderly yesterday and the eight-mile-an-hour law was scrupulously observed.

The speeders in the park, however, imagined that Mahoney and his motorcycle was safely looking out for violators of the law on Sutter street and in consequence nine of them were arrested and booked at the city prison for fast driving.

CAPTURES SHEEHAN.
One of the most surprised of the offenders captured was Michael J. Sheehan, proprietor of the famous roadhouse on the boulevard. He was speeding so fast along the main drive that Mahoney had difficulty in catching him with his bike. He took the matter rather as a joke, however, and willingly accompanied the officer to the station, where he deposited bail for his release.

Tribune Sends Youth Back to His Parents

The large circulation of the TRIBUNE was demonstrated this morning when young John Jarmouth of Berkeley appeared at his home and asked to be forgiven for the trouble and anxiety he had caused by his disappearance.

Young Jarmouth telephoned to the TRIBUNE office from Berkeley shortly before noon and said: "I wish to express my sincere thanks for the help of your great paper in locating my son and causing him to return home. My son is a member of the law and I am proud of himself in the TRIBUNE in Sacramento last night, and realized that the first train for home was self in it, he immediately resolved to communicate with his parents, and take the first train for home."

"The TRIBUNE is certainly doing a good work for Oakland and the city."

Automobile Treat For 84 Ancients

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—About eighty-four aged occupants of the various homes in this city were treated to an automobile ride and picnic by the California Woman's club today. Twenty-one cars carried the old people to the ocean beach, where lunch was served. The men were treated to cigars, while boxes of candy were liberally distributed among the ladies. After luncheon at the beach, the run was extended to points of interest in Golden Gate Park and a trip through the Mission.

Japs' Eyes Snap at Chinese Coolies

TOKIO, Aug. 15.—Eight hundred Chinese coolies have just been put to work by the contractors of the Kagoshima railway. As they had been recently imported their presence is causing some discussion concerning an imperial ordinance promulgated July, 1899, which disables foreigners from engaging in work outside of their previous settlements without a permit from the local authorities. It is not known at present what attitude the Kagoshima authorities will take in this instance, and the outcome will be watched with much interest.

BURKE MUST STAND TRIAL FOR SLAYING SWITCHMAN

Theodore Schafer, Friend of Man Who Was Killed, Swears to Complaint of Murder Against Officer.

Theodore Schafer, a Southern Pacific switchman, living at 1695 Eighth street, swore to a complaint this morning charging State Railroad Policeman John C. Burke with the murder of Switchman T. A. Dumas.

Dumas was shot and killed in a struggle with Policeman Burke in the West Oakland yards on Tuesday morning after he was being overpowered by the latter, who was attempting to escape arrest. Burke had accused the switchman of stealing a bottle of whiskey from a car.

WAS A WITNESS.
Schafer was a witness at the coroner's inquest yesterday morning. He testified there that he was engaged in switching freight cars in front of the shack where the shooting occurred. He passed the shack twice on an engine before the fatal shot was fired. The first time he passed he saw Burke go in the door and speak to Dumas. When he passed the third time he heard a shot and saw smoke coming out of the door. Then Burke emerged. Schafer was unable to say who fired the shot or what had occurred between the two men inside of the shack.

SWITCHMEN BITTER.
The other switchmen in the West Oakland yards were bitter in their denunciation of Policeman Burke after the shooting occurred and there were threats of lynching before the police placed him under arrest. Yesterday a score or more of the switchmen employed in the yards attended the coroner's inquest at the city morgue, and their attitude showed plainly that they believed the railroad officer should be held to account for killing their associate.

The verdict of the coroner's jury yesterday was to the effect that it was unable to determine whether or not Officer Burke killed Dumas in the performance of his duty. This verdict left Burke in the custody of the police, but he could not be prosecuted unless a complaint was sworn out against him. In view of the uncertainty expressed in the coroner's verdict, District Attorney Brown announced that if no action was taken by the friends of the dead man, he would call a special meeting of the Grand Jury to investigate the shooting. He was preparing to issue such a summons this morning, when he learned that Schafer was acting as the representative of the Switchmen's Union, which will assist in the prosecution of Burke. Judge A. L. Frick has been retained as counsel for the switchmen.

Burke will be arraigned on the murder charge in Police Court No. 2 tomorrow morning.

HAD FIVE BOTTLES.
Harry Dolman, a member of the switching crew with Dumas, was arrested last evening by Officer Becker and had five bottles of whiskey in his possession that had been stolen. In Judge Smith's department of the Police Court Dolman forfeited $50 bail this morning.

FALLS EIGHT STORIES AND IS INSTANTLY KILLED

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Gustave Holland, a laborer, while hoisting scaffolding on the eighth story of Newman & Levinson building at Geary and Stockton streets, lost his balance and fell to the cellar, crushing his skull and breaking every bone in his body. The man was a union motorman and resided at 770 Sixty-first street, Oakland. He applied to Superintendent Clay of the American-Hawaiian Company for a position. He said he was short of money and willing to do anything.

The superintendent put him to work hoisting scaffolding with a pulley and it was while engaged in this work that he fell to his death.

FORMER REFEREE CLOSES CAREER WITH BROMIDE

(BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.)
LOS ANGELES, Aug. 15.—Harry H. Stuart, a sporting man of this city, and well known on the coast, committed suicide here last night in his room at 244½ North Grand avenue, by taking a solution of bromide. He had been on a protracted spree and the notes which he left addressed to his wife and the coroner indicated that he was weary of life and hopeless of doing better.

Stuart was formerly one of the best known pugilist referees in this section. Later he had been connected with a local publication as a sporting writer. His wife and children reside in San Francisco.

IRATE YOUTHS BEAT BARTENDER AND SMASH SALOON FURNITURE

(SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—William Davis and William Kagee were arrested by Policeman J. L. Farrell at 3 o'clock this morning and booked at the city prison on charges of malicious mischief and disturbing the peace.

Officer Farrell, who is a plain clothes man attached to the Southern Station, was patrolling Third street early this morning, when he heard a loud noise in the saloon run by Mrs. O'Brien on Howard street, near Third. He immediately began an investigation and found ten or twelve boys between the ages of 15 and 25 years, demolishing the furniture and breaking everything in sight in the place. He succeeded in arresting Davis and Kagee after a hard struggle. It was necessary to club Davis into submission and he had to be taken to Central Emergency Hospital for repairs.

The trouble in the saloon was occasioned by the refusal of Mrs. O'Brien and her bartender to pay over some money to the boys. They resented the way she ordered them from the place, and after beating up the bartender proceeded to demolish the interior.

WANTED ACROSS BAY; ARRESTED IN OAKLAND.
Frank Dalton, wanted in San Francisco for grand larceny was arrested this morning at 385 Fourth street by Sergeant Byrne and Policeman Greenly. He was taken to the city prison, where he was turned over to Detective C. J. Cody of the San Francisco force, who was waiting for his arrest to be made by the Oakland police.

MANSFIELD TO SUMMER HOME

Is to Slowly Travel on Special Train—Friends Admit His Career Ends.

LYON MOUNTAIN, N. Y., Aug. 15.—Richard Mansfield is not improving in health, and those close to him reluctantly admit their conviction that the actor will never again be seen on the stage. Arrangements have been made to take Mansfield to his summer home near New London, Conn., next Sunday if at that time he is able to make the journey. The trip will be made on a special train that can be run as slowly as needed to avoid the discomfort of jolting. Sunday was chosen as it was thought it would be quieter at points along the way on that day.

ASKS HUSBAND BE KEPT AWAY

Offie Leggett Asserts That Her Spouse Threatens to Take Her Two Children.

Offie Leggett, an employee of the Alpha Restaurant at Tenth street and Broadway, brought suit in the Superior Court this afternoon against Leroy Leggett in which she alleges that he molests her continually with threats of taking her two children from her, and that he declares he will do anything, even if he must go to the penitentiary, in order to gain the custody of the little ones. Mrs. Leggett also says that her husband has been a poor supporter for over a year not contributing anything to the aid of his family, although he now says he has a steady position with an income of $35 a month.

When Mrs. Leggett was operated on for appendicitis last April she says her husband came to see her, and alternately begged and threatened her to return to him, so much so that the physician in charge had to oust him from the premises.

FURTHER ACCUSATIONS. Leggett is also accused of taking the children from the Fred Finch Orphanage at Fruitvale and bringing them to a room where he tried to keep his wife and family. The complaint alleges that Leggett got up early one morning and went to Los Angeles.

Mrs. Leggett says her husband accused her of improper relations with other men and threatened to prosecute her in the Police Court. She asks that Leggett be given orders from the court to remain away from her, and also that he be made to pay her the sum of $20 a month for the support of the children and $50 attorney's fees.

NO ONE IDENTIFIES BODY OF AGED MAN

No one has appeared to identify the body of the unknown old man who was killed by a Telegraph-avenue car at Third street and Broadway Tuesday night. An inquest will be held by Coroner Tiedje at the city morgue tomorrow to determine the responsibility for his death.

WOMAN DRINKS ACID OVER GRIEF FOR DEAD MOTHER

In Presence of Family at Supper Table, Fearful Draught Is Swallowed—Expected to Recover.

Stepping into the dining-room where her relatives were gathered about the supper table last evening, Mrs. Annie Bennett, of 122 Miles avenue, raised a vial of carbolic acid to her lips. Then, with a single "goodbye" to the horrified company, she drained the deadly contents and fell writhing to the floor.

As quickly as possible the police were notified and Officer Hunley made a record-breaking trip to the house in the new auto patrol wagon.

Mrs. Bennett was removed to the East Bay Sanitarium, where, by heroic efforts, the physicians succeeded in saving her life.

Although her condition is serious, reports from the hospital today indicate that she will recover.

Grief over the recent death of her mother was the motive which actuated Mrs. Bennett's attempt at self-destruction. She had just finished her dinner and excused herself for a moment to step into the pantry. Returning with the bottle of acid she swallowed the poison before her horrified relatives could grasp her intention.

Mrs. Bennett is 29 years of age, and although she has been despondent her relatives had no idea that she would attempt to commit suicide.

NO POPULAR VOTE. It is contended by the banks that the appropriation to acquire the railroad is void because the supervisors are prohibited by the charter from spending money for the acquisition of public utilities except by a vote of the people or unless they can do so within the dollar limit. The bankers point out that there was no popular vote and that the dollar limit was exceeded. They allege that if the supervisors were allowed to do this they would have absolute power to expend about $8,000,000 annually without the vote of the taxpayers. This, they insist, is not the intent of the charter.

TAFT PLAN FOR REORGANIZATION OF COMMISSION HAS BECOME EFFECTIVE. WASHINGTON, Aug. 15.—Major Harry Hodges today began the duties of purchasing agent for the Isthmian Canal Commission, with headquarters at Washington. At the same time Secretary Taft's plan for reorganization of the administration methods of the canal commission became effective.

A considerable amount of work heretofore done in Washington will be transacted on the Isthmus where the office of the secretary of the commission will be located.

SWITCHMAN SUSPECT'S CASE FOR TOMORROW Harry Dohrman, a Southern Pacific switchman who was arrested in the West Oakland yards in connection with the robbery of a carload of whisky consigned to Sherwood & Sons, was in the police court this morning on a charge of petty larceny. Dohrman is said to be the man who was arrested for stealing a whisky bottle from the carload on the night preceding the shooting of Switchman Dumas by Officer Burke. A charge of carrying a dangerous weapon was also made against Dohrman. Later, Railroad Officer Burke found a basketful of whisky bottles in Dohrman's locker bearing the Sherwood labels, and his second arrest followed.

Dumas had a bottle of the same brand of whisky when the fatal struggle with Officer Burke occurred. It was while resisting arrest on a similar charge that he was killed.

Dohrman's case went over until tomorrow to allow the defendant to plead.

Savings Banks Join in Suit to Restrain Supervisors From Acquiring Railway.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—The savings banks of this city, with one exception, have joined in a suit which was filed in the Superior Court yesterday, to restrain the Board of Supervisors from entering into any contract for acquiring and rebuilding the Geary-street railroad.

The validity of the $720,000 appropriation by the supervisors, for the improvement of the road, is attacked in the complaint. The history of the appropriation is set forth, it being explained how in the original bill, it was made payable out of a special tax levy of 20 cents on each $100, and how it was subsequently made payable out of the dollar limit portion of the budget. It also states that to make room for it a similar amount for the repair of streets was taken out of the budget and ordered paid out of an emergency tax levy.

SEEKING TO PREVENT CHANGE OF CHANNEL

RENO, Nev., Aug. 15.—A suit to prevent the government engineers from changing the channel of the Carson river into the new canal prepared for the Fallon irrigation project, and also to secure damages for injury to their crops, will soon be begun in the Federal Court at Carson by A. Hansen, F. Pink and Otto Olsen, farmers near Genoa. A petition has already been filed with State Engineer Nicholas alleging that the reclamation project has ruined their irrigating systems.

At a point where these three farmers have large acreages the Carson river makes a horseshoe bend. The government made a huge cut to straighten the stream. Now the complainants allege that they are unable to get water for their crops, having signed their water rights over to the government engineers when the work was begun upon promise of ample water supply. The complaint names H. Toddlie, H. Luhrs and Charles Rohe as the men responsible for the damaging changes.

Twelve years ago few people knew of such a preparation as a Powder for the Feet. Today after the genuine merit of Allen's Foot-Powder has been told year after year by one gratified person to another, there are millions who would as soon go without a dentifice as without the daily use of Allen's Foot-Powder. It is cleanly, wholesome, healing, antiseptic powder to be shaken into the shoes, which has given rest and comfort to tired and aching feet in all parts of the world. It cures while you walk.

STEINWAY AND OTHER PIANOS
VICTOR TALKING MACHINES

FAIREST-PRICED PIANOS IN CALIFORNIA

The selling of the Steinway Piano has always been conducted in a manner comporting with its world-wide eminence, its inimitable musical qualities, its unapproachable mechanical excellence. Dignity in the offering, fairness in the price, uniform charge to every one. There has never been an effort to advance prices beyond the figure that yields a legitimate profit, although the solitary position of the Steinway as the foremost musical instrument would warrant any price that we could put on it. At $525 the Vertegrand is the lowest-priced upright ever sold in California, because it is more than any other upright, more than the small grands of other makers, just its own measure removed from the great Steinway Grands. It is virtually a grand piano in an upright case—measured by the other standards, worth twice its price. At $800 the Steinway Miniature Grand is the lowest-priced of all grand pianos. Its bigness of tone, its wonderful musical possibilities, its exquisitely delicate touch, its elegance of design, set it apart from all others, the supreme small grand. In view of the constant advance in the price of mediocre pianos, the attitude of Messrs. Steinway & Sons in maintaining these fairest of piano prices is one of the most hopeful signs of American trade today.

TRAIN WRECK HORRORS ESCAPED BY PASSENGERS

Two Engines and 40 Cars Demolished; 50 Steers Horribly Mangled; Two R. R. Employees Injured.

Two engines converted into so many pieces of scrap metal, and the wreckage of 40 passenger cars, scattered in all directions, was the scene of a terrible disaster in the city of Pleasanton, Cal., yesterday afternoon at 2:40 o'clock, about half a mile north of Pleasanton, in this county.

MAY BE A FATALITY.

It is possible, however, that after all the collision may have been averted by a fatality. The reason for this is that the collision occurred on a track which was usually employed by track foremen in the inspection of railway lines, was not a passenger train, and the wreckage of the freight engine and the passenger train, which was converted into a pile of twisted metal, was not a passenger train, and the wreckage of the freight engine and the passenger train, which was converted into a pile of twisted metal, was not a passenger train.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE.

Wonderful to relate, none of the persons in the passenger train were injured, although none of them escaped, in all probability, the greatest shock they ever sustained in their lives.

THUNDEROUS IMPACT.

The distance was so short in which to bring the flying passenger train to a stop and, as a consequence, it crashed into the freight engine with such a tremendous impact that the freight engine was broken into two pieces, and the passenger train was converted into a pile of twisted metal.

The passenger engine was shattered and rolled into the ditch. The caboose of the freight was reduced to splinters. The freight cars were broken into two pieces, and the passenger train was converted into a pile of twisted metal.

COUNTY DISTRICTS ARE TO MAKE SPLENDID EXHIBIT

Various Towns Fall in Line and Work for Success of Carnival-Labor Council Endorses.

The interior of the county will be well represented at the big exposition and carnival to be held in Idora Park from September 22 to October 5. There will be elaborate displays placed in the big skating rink and crowds of people from the agricultural sections will come in daily by special trains.

Livermore fell into line enthusiastically yesterday. A meeting was held in the town hall and a number of prominent men of the town decided to see that Livermore should do her part in the big show.

At this meeting Director-General Miller of the exposition appeared and urged prompt and earnest action. His suggestions were acted upon immediately and a committee was appointed to wait upon the town trustees last night and get official support for the work contemplated.

At the meeting in the town hall last night, Arthur L. Henry, C. E. Farnsworth, R. H. Hunter, George Beck, C. A. McLean, L. F. Parker, W. B. Lowenthal, N. D. Dutcher, John Sweeney, M. G. Callaghan, F. Mathiesen and David McDonald were present.

The meeting was hurriedly called following the arrival of Miller in town, but the attendance gave evidence that the residents of the town have given the question of exhibiting in Idora Park deep thought. Before the meeting adjourned it was unanimously voted to participate and to go about the work in a manner creditable to the rich county about the town.

For the purpose of obtaining a co-operation of the town trustees the following committee was named: M. G. Callaghan, George Beck and D. J. Murphy.

SPRING VALLEY IS UNDER FIRE

Supervisors Want to Know Why $50,000 Pipe Line Has Not Been Constructed.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—A sensation developed at a meeting of the supervisors yesterday afternoon pending the discussion of ways and means to prevent the threatened shortage of water, which is predicted by Spring Valley. It transpired that while the Spring Valley Water Company has ceased work on the Filarcito pipe line, claiming that they could not borrow $50,000 necessary for the construction, the company in reality has a bargain with L. W. Hellman, by which the latter is obligated to buy several hundred thousand dollars' worth of bonds which have already been authorized.

THREE RESOLUTIONS.

Aside from this, the outcome of the meeting was three resolutions of the board. One presented by Magee was in the form of an ordinance making it a crime, with a penalty of $50 or five days in jail, for any water for anything but domestic or building purposes, or to use a fire hydrant without the permission of the fire department. This is aimed at stopping the waste until the company can get Lake Honda full again.

CAUSE OF DISASTER.

Division Superintendent Baker of the Southern Pacific Railroad company stated that the cause of the disaster was the fact that in the flagging of the passenger train, J. Pullman, the conductor of the freight, did not go far enough back from his own train to signal the advancing passenger train in time to enable the engineer of the latter to bring his train to a stop in time to avert disaster.

NEAR THE SIDING.

The freight train made its move toward the siding in Pleasanton shortly after 2:30 o'clock. The Stockton train pulled out of the depot in Stockton, on its way to this city, at 12:05 o'clock p. m., and made its usual speedy run from that city to Pleasanton, where it made its usual stop. When it got under way again, as is usually the case, it set out at a more rapid pace, and the first intimation that there was anything in the way of a safe passage was the belated appearance of the freight conductor with tardy signal of danger.

The wreck will be an expensive one, and in a day or so, there will be an attempt made by Southern Pacific officials to ascertain who is responsible for it.

BOLD THIEF GRABS PURSE OF MONEY AND JUMPS CAR

Woman Accidentally Drops $130 in Gold at Railway Station Which Stranger Takes With Him on Train.

BERKELEY, Aug. 15.—One of the bold-thief acts ever brought to the notice of the local police was perpetrated this morning in the center of town and with scores of people about. As the 10:30 local pulled in this morning at Berkeley station, Mrs. M. A. Grange of 1703 Rose street, in alighting, dropped a small leather purse containing $130 in gold and currency. Henry Seligold, a newsboy standing near by, started to pick it up and return it to its owner. As he stopped for the article and almost had it within his grasp, a young man shot out from among the crowd and, hastily scooping it up, jumped on the train, which was already moving out of the station. At Tohn, an expressman, pointed the man out to Conductor Billy Van, who said he would secure the purse and return it.

Young Soldier From Alcatraz Falls on Track After Night of Drinking.

Luther Corwell, a young soldier from Alcatraz Island, returned to headquarters this morning after a brief leave of absence, with his right hand mangled and partially amputated. According to the story he told Dr. George G. Reine and Warden James M. Page at the Receiving Hospital early this morning, where the crushed hand was dressed, he was out on a little spree, which gave him until 7:30 o'clock this morning, in which to report to his captain. He had taken in the theaters of Oakland last night, and after drinking quite freely he started out to walk to the pier to take the early boat for the island.

When in the West Oakland yards, Corwell staggered across the railroad tracks and fell partially in the track of a switch engine. His right hand was run over and three fingers were badly crushed. The train crew heard his cries and called the police ambulance which took him to the Receiving Hospital at about 3 o'clock this morning. He was able to walk to the train and get the boat to Alcatraz in time to report.

MILLIONS TO BE SPENT ON THE WESTERN FRONT

RAILROADS TO TAKE UP THE VAST IMPROVEMENTS

Oakland Will Be One of the Greatest Cities in the West When Work Is Completed.

Any broad scheme for the improvement of the bay of San Francisco cannot be rightly regarded except in its application to all the communities around it, for every community benefits by such improvements. In the past, when competition was supposed to be the life of trade, the prosperity of a community was believed to depend in part on the depression of its neighbors. Now, when it is known that the prosperity of one conduces to the prosperity of the others, each progression of a community is welcomed by its neighbors, and the Chronicle.

This is particularly true of the communities surrounding a common body of water, such as the cities and towns around the bay of San Francisco, and its offshoots. This is shown in the improvements that are under way on the San Francisco and the Oakland water fronts. For every slip for the accommodation of ferries that is built at San Francisco, a corresponding slip is required on the other side of the bay. For every similar slip that is built at Oakland, a corresponding one is needed at Sausalito or San Francisco. When the Key Route built its terminal, it emphasized the needs of increased passenger accommodations on this side of the bay. When the Western Pacific builds its passenger terminal at Oakland, it will render those needs imperative.

This is equally true of freight accommodations. For every wharf built at Oakland for the receipt of railroad freight, a similar wharf is needed here. As the needs of such community grow, and their requirements of all goods, and their prosperity, therefore, becomes largely interdependent, so that no improvement can be made in any part of the waterfront without benefiting every other part.

Nor does it require any great length of time before the interdependence of the communities is felt. About the same time the Western Pacific let its contracts for the improvement of its San Francisco property it let contracts for the improvement of its Oakland property, and the work will progress simultaneously.

The improvement of the San Francisco water front means increased prosperity to Oakland, and the improvement of the Oakland water front means increased prosperity to San Francisco. The water fronts of the two communities cannot be considered singly, and the same is true, in a lesser degree, of all the water front on the bay of San Francisco.

Miles of Water Front

There is scarcely any part of the bay, or its offshoots, that could not be made navigable. In the bay of San Francisco there is a depth of thirty feet for a distance of forty miles from the Golden Gate, and while the channel is narrow as the bay, it is deep. There is little of it that would not admit of being improved. There is a good depth of water through the straits leading to San Pablo bay, and a depth of more than twenty feet as far as Mare Island and Sausalito. The water front on these two bays is about 175 miles, and the wharf length that could be constructed along this front is almost incalculable. It is certainly greater than will ever be required.

Aside from San Francisco, the most extensive improvements are under way along the Oakland water front. The Key Route contemplates a $10,000,000 improvement to its property. The Southern Pacific is filling in a large area of tide lands, the Western Pacific will fill in a greater area and construct piers and slips, $500,000 is being expended in dredging the Oakland estuary and tidal canal.

and many minor improvements in the way of pier construction are being made along this channel.

Probably the largest single undertaking on the water front is that of the San Francisco, Oakland and San Jose Railway Company, which proposes to expend $10,000,000 in improving its property between the present pier and the Oakland mole of the Southern Pacific. Plans have been drawn for the work by Howard C. Holmes. They provide for dredging the area described to a depth of thirty feet, for filling in 500 acres of tide land, and for building piers that will accommodate more than 200 vessels. Piers have already been ordered for the piers, and dredging operations have started.

Key Route Improvements

The tide-land lots will be filled in for a distance of several hundred yards off shore, where a seawall will be constructed to impound the silt and dredgings from the basin. The filled area will be about 500 acres, and it is estimated that it will require 5,000,000 cubic yards to fill it. The land thus formed will be used for railroad yards and for manufacturing sites. One of the most complete freight terminals in the world will be laid out on this property, and the company has obtained a franchise to lay tracks on Wood street, so that it will have an inlet for freight. The company has agreed to give equal switching rights to all roads, so that the shipper over any line will have the same advantages in getting his freight to tide water.

On the seawall, which will extend from the mole of the Southern Pacific to the pier of the Key Route, piers will be built in the largest and best construction in the world. There will be ten of them. In addition to a car ferry slip. They will be 100 feet in width and 1000 feet in length, and will rest upon concrete piles. A spur track will run to each wharf, so that the cars of any railroad may be brought alongside the vessel. Modern appliances, such as cranes, etc., will be installed, and the cost of handling freight will be reduced to a minimum.

In addition to these ten piers, twenty-four others will be built from the present trestle of the Key Route. This is to be reconstructed with reinforced concrete piles and a steel covering. At angles of forty-five degrees from the trestle the piers will project into the bay. They will be of the same construction and dimensions as the others and will be similarly equipped. Altogether there will be thirty-four piers, which will accommodate sixty-eight of the largest craft in the world, or about 300 ordinary vessels. The basin, which will be dredged to a depth of thirty feet, will afford a water area, clear of the piers, of more than 1500 acres. It will be triangular in shape, and will be bounded by the Southern Pacific mole, the Key Route trestle and the new seawall. The whole system, with the basins, piers and yards, will form one of the most complete, and best equipped terminals at tide water in the country.

Water Front Litigation

Both the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific are doing work on their terminals, but this was preceded by litigation which left the title to much of the property in doubt. As left by the decision of the United States Court of Appeals, the title to the property to the low water line of 1852 is vested in the City of Oakland, whereas the title to the property between this line and the United States bulkhead line is vested in the state. As all the construction that has been done was undertaken on city franchises, with the idea that the city owned the property to the bulkhead line, the decision leaves the Southern Pacific in the position of a trespasser on state property.

The city has parted with its holdings, with the exception of a strip of water front between the property and that of the Southern Pacific. The state, according to the decision, owns all the property between the low water line and the bulkhead line, but it has yet taken no action toward establishing its title. Should this be finally established it would give the state the same right to collect tolls, dockage, etc., as is exercised on this side of the bay. Until this is done the title to this property must be somewhat uncertain. Meantime, improvements are going forward, regardless of whom the title may be vested in.

Western Pacific Work

The Western Pacific has acquired 1000 feet of property on the water front between the training wall and the Southern Pacific mole. Plans for the improvement of this have been drawn and some of the contracts let. From the shore to the bulkhead line a solid wharf will be built 600 feet wide. North of this will be a slip 200 feet wide and then a pier 200 feet wide. On the mole proper tracks will be laid and freight yards constructed, as well as the depots, a passenger slip and a freight slip. The main slip between the pier and the mole will be about 3000 feet long and will be dredged to a depth of thirty feet. Provision has been made on the mole for lumber wharves, train sheds, etc.

A contract for building the ferry and freight slips has been let for $700,000. It is estimated that this work will be completed in six months. Another contract provides for filling an area of 1,000,000 square feet and the construction of a terminal arm. The freight and the ferry slips will be 500 feet long and the water will be dredged to a depth of fifteen feet. The boats which will ply between the mole and this side of the bay will be 200 feet long, with a seating capacity of 1500 to 1600 persons. They will cost about $220,000. The terminal arm, which will extend parallel with the mole, will be about 100 feet shorter, and a 200-foot slip will be left between the two. This will be dredged to a depth of fifteen feet. The pier will be equipped with cranes and other devices for handling freight, and will be laid with tracks so that cargoes may be loaded directly from cars to vessels. It is estimated that all the improvements will cost several million dollars and will require about two years for their completion.

The company will doubtless undertake other improvements on the Oakland water front as it acquires the property. It is negotiating for the purchase of water front lots in the vicinity of its present holdings, and if it should acquire these it will doubtless improve them in keeping with the rest of its terminal property.

The Western Pacific is also undertaking improvements on this side of the bay to meet its needs. A contract has been let for filling in the land it holds near Islais creek to a construction company for $1,000,000. The grading will be done as far north as Ninth and Brannan streets. As soon as possible the board of harbor commissioners will build the seawall in front of this property, when the company will begin the construction of its San Francisco terminal.

The Southern Pacific is filling in the tide lots adjacent to its mole, which will add considerably to its truck room. At the same time it is dredging in front of the bulkhead line so that large vessels will have access to its wharves. The filled area is about fifty acres.

City Improvements

Plans are also under way to improve the city property between the Southern Pacific and Western Pacific terminals. The city has several thousand feet of frontage, and it is desired to raise a fund of $2,000,000 for the improvement of this property and the building of four piers. The last court decision leaves the title to the property between the low water line and the bulkhead line in the state, but this is not delaying the plans. It is intended to build one of the piers at Grove street, one at Broadway, one at Twenty-second street, and one between the last court decision leaves the title to the property between the low water line and the bulkhead line in the state, but this is not delaying the plans. It is intended to build one of the piers at Grove street, one at Broadway, one at Twenty-second street, and one between

Berkeley's Plans

A promotion committee has been formed in Berkeley for the improvement of its water front. Plans have been drawn for 1000 feet of seawall, reclamation and pier built construction. It is probable that the senate committee on harbors will recommend an appropriation or a bond issue for this work. There is some federal objection, however, to building.

Through the efforts of the Oakland and San Francisco Chambers of Commerce an appropriation was secured from Congress of more than $500,000 for deepening and widening of the estuary and canal. With this money it is intended to dredge the channel from the bay to Fallon street to a width of 500 feet and a depth of twenty-five feet. From Fallon street to Tenth avenue, on the tidal basin, it will be dredged to a width of 300 feet and the same depth. Around the north side of the basin to the tidal canal a channel 100 feet wide and seventeen feet deep will be dredged. Another channel of the same width and depth will be dredged from the tidal canal along the Alameda shore to Tenth avenue.

On the bay shore three railroads have franchises for laying tracks, which takes the place of a belt road. On the shore of the estuary a franchise was applied for by a water front lot in the vicinity of its present ing a seawall, as it is feared that it may change the currents and affect the depth of water on the bar.

Among other improvements along the bay shore are those at Winehaven, where the California Wine Association has built a 1500-foot wharf for the accommodation of deep water craft. It is expected that $1,000,000 will be expended on the plant and the accompanying water front improvements. A belt road will also be constructed to connect with the Santa Fe.

A number of minor improvements are under way on the Contra Costa shore. From Port Costa to Berkeley the shore line is dotted with manufacturing plants, and every year some of them add to their wharves and shipping facilities. At Point Richmond, the terminal of the Santa Fe, the company is preparing to extend its facilities. It was also reported that the Santa Fe would build a passenger terminal in Oakland near the trestle of the Key Route, but the project has never been carried into effect.

The California Northwestern Railroad is considering a plan to connect Sausalito and Oakland with a ferry line. At present passengers between the two points are compelled to go by way of San Francisco. Should the plan be carried into effect it would be necessary to build slips at both terminals. A project for deepening the channel to San Rafael is also under discussion, but so far no funds have become available for the purpose.

At Mare Island the government has installed a flusher for deepening the channel, which has occasioned much trouble in the last few years through filling with silt. The flusher is mounted on a barge which anchors in the channel. Pipes extend to the bottom and water is pumped through them with great force. This disturbs the silt and mud, which goes into suspension in the water, being carried off by the currents. In this way the channel is being rapidly deepened.

From every community around the bay some accounts of improvements, but they are chiefly undertaken by private companies or corporations. Public improvements are being made less rapidly, as it requires longer to get the machinery in motion. Meantime the requirements of commerce are fast overtaking the facilities, and in many cases overreaching them. That the commercial needs of the

Strain Too Great

Hundreds of Oakland Readers Find Daily Toil a Burden.

The hustle and worry of business men. The hard work and stooping of workmen. The woman's household cares, are too great a strain on the kidneys. Backache, headache, dizziness, kidney troubles, urinary troubles follow.

An Oakland citizen tells how to cure them all.

T. H. Wallace, of 115 Eleventh ave., bricklayer, says: "It was so long since I had my first attack of backache that I have forgotten the year it occurred. I was always sure to have a spell when I contracted a cold from exposure to inclement weather or after an extra hard day's work. I had an attack when I noticed 'Doan's Kidney Pills' advertised in the local paper and I went for a box. In a few days the backache disappeared. I will not have the slightest hesitation in recommending Doan's Kidney Pills to any of my friends and acquaintances whom I hear complaining of backache which arises from the kidneys not performing their work properly."

Pushing Parking Improvements:

The initial step toward the dredging of Lake Merritt and the filling of the park lands between Eighth and Twelfth streets with the dredgings was taken by the Board of Public Works at its meeting yesterday. Now that the revenue for the purchase and improvement of park lands is available, the members of the Board of Public Works, who are all progressive, are not letting the grass grow under their feet in carrying out the wishes of the public.

Park improvement is one of the evidences of civic enterprise, high municipal aspirations and superior growth. Those cities in the State which have fostered the esthetic and spent money with a free hand in municipal adornment have profited a thousand-fold by it. Oakland is in the swim and must hereafter be included in this class. It is fully alive to the situation. A live and progressive administration is hastening to meet the public demands. The time for action has been long delayed, but fulfillment is finally in sight.

The present administration is carrying out, under favorable auspices, what the administration of 1889-91 started under adverse conditions and in the face of vigorous opposition when it adopted a system of boulevarding Lake Merritt and built the first section of that popular thoroughfare on the eastern shore. The mossbacks of that time put, of course, all kinds of obstacles in the way, and succeeded later on in obstructing the carrying out of the original plans for a magnificent driveway on a uniform level around this beautiful sheet of water, set like a priceless gem in the heart of the city. The fight for the adornment of the lake and its development into the thing of beauty which nature and art have combined in designing that it should be has been through all the years an uphill one. But the complete triumph of its promoters is plainly in sight. Compromises have had to be made, modifying the original plans; but these have fortunately resulted in producing a general scheme of parking land and water which promises results more elaborate and beautiful and more acceptable to the municipality at large than were at first deemed possible. Perhaps, everything considered, the long delay has not been altogether wasted, for Oakland has experienced a genuine awakening in these latter days, and it is blessed with an administration that is in accord with the temper of the people and keen enough to appreciate the opportunities within its grasp for progressive action. It is, therefore, losing no time to carry out the wishes of the people as expressed so emphatically at the recent park bond elections. The foundation is being actively laid for the quick development of the Lake Merritt and other parking schemes which will ultimately place this city on the highest plane of municipal adornment, add inestimably to property values and stimulate private enterprise in a way that it has never before been stimulated. "All's well that ends well."

Growth of California Cities.

It is a well established fact that California communities grow phenomenally. Some of them have sprung into existence over night like a mushroom. Others have grown by fits and starts and some have awakened at the end of a long period of lethargy and attained prominence by sudden leaps and bounds. This has been the experience in a broad sense of such ancient communities (that is, ancient from a California standpoint) as Los Angeles and San Diego, which constitute the oldest civilized settlements in the State, not even excepting Monterey, the pre-American capital of Alta California. It was not until the transcontinental railroads entered Los Angeles that it began to grow out of what might be termed its pueblo state, when it had a population of about five thousand Mexicans, Spaniards and Mission Indians and not over twenty-five hundred Americans. And it took an immense amount of systematic and persistent booming to get it started to a higher growth. In fact, the first inflation movement was overdone, and produced a long period of disaster and distress. That was followed by a healthier and more permanent growth, based upon a better foundation than the laying out of mushroom townships located in the suburban wilderness around hotel structures for which there was no demand, present or prospective. Judicious advertising, in which the railroads and every other important interest took an active part, and in which special railroad excursions from the East and the settlement there of a class of wealthy healthseekers who were attracted by the climate and semi-tropical products, helped it along, although its climate is in many respects inferior to that of Oakland and the products of the soil not superior in quality and value and not as varied and numerous as those of Alameda county, until it had seven years ago a census population of 102,000 and now claims a total of 280,000 inhabitants.

With a more equable climate and a bay second only in size and commercial suitability to San Francisco bay, San Diego remained virtually dormant until very recent times. The Union now says the city has a population of 40,000 and has started to grow to a much higher position in the list of California communities—one which is more in keeping with its commercial possibilities. And the Union takes pride in noting that during the past seven months the permits for new buildings issued in San Diego represent a value of over $1,270,000, which is practically equal to the value of the building permits issued in Los Angeles in the first seven months of 1900, when that city had a population nearly two-thirds larger than that now possessed by the so-called city of "bay and climate." The same paper also shows that when the value of the Los Angeles permits of the first seven months of last year are compared with that of the permits issued there during the same period this year there is a falling off of $3,165,000 in evidence and a decrease of 1247 in the number of the permits issued.

The results in both of these cities have been reached, however, chiefly by artificial and sometimes more or less questionable processes, not always correlated to natural conditions, in direct contrast with the prime agencies of development in Oakland. This city has grown strictly on its natural merits, without any of that hothouse booming which has been so frequently characteristic of the southern cities. These natural merits were not generally discovered until a comparatively recent date, it is true; but the growth of the city has since been phenomenal. While the values of building improvements in Los Angeles have shrunk over $3,000,000 this year, as compared with last year, the report of the Board of Public Works in this city for the fiscal year ending June 30 shows exactly the opposite conditions, namely, the issuance of permits for nearly $10,000,000 worth of building improvements, or approximately 120 per cent of an increase over the value of the building improvements officially authorized the previous year. Most of this represents substantial permanent growth, with the outlook during the coming year of a much more important and costly development, for even Los Angeles capitalists have discovered that Oakland possesses rare commercial advantages, a back country of unequalled productiveness and a climate superior to that of their own city, and that it is, therefore, a good field for them to invest their money in.

Russian Revolutionists Active.

While the Czar was able a few weeks ago to suppress the external evidences of the political activity of the revolutionary element in Russia through the dissolution of the second Douma, he has not been able to destroy the spirit of revolt which is abroad throughout the land. The revolutionists have again taken to cover and are industriously working in secret. They are thus more dangerous to the Czar than they were when discussing their grievances and fighting for their rights in the open. The public debates in the chamber of the Douma, however hostile they may have been against the government, were harmless compared with the secret conclaves which are being held by the revolutionary leaders whose identity is carefully screened. At these secret meetings decrees of death are passed upon those of the Czar's advisers who conspicuously obstruct the progress of reform. It has been invariably the practice of the revolutionists to execute these secret decrees at the most unexpected moment, but under conditions which never fail to carry terror to the hearts of Nicholas and his counsellors.

Such decrees of death are said to have been served recently on Premier Stolopkin and General Ignatieff, who are probably the best hated men today in Russia. Stolopkin is held responsible for the dissolution of the Douma and the resumption by the Czar of autocratic authority as a measure to suppress the agrarian movement in the provinces which was greatly stimulated among the peasant class through the privilege of the parliamentary representation temporarily granted them and the promises made of the induction of constitutional reforms and the introduction of measures for the partition among them of the imperial crown lands and the large landed estates. The political privileges were withdrawn at Stolopkin's suggestion and the promises regarding the partition of the crown lands and the landed estates of the archduke's remain unfulfilled. Ignatieff is condemned to suffer death by violence because of the part he has played as a reactionary leader. Although externally Russia appears today to be quieter and more peaceful than it has been for years, the mysterious decrees of death which occasionally issue from the secret quarters of the revolutionary center prove that it is a smoldering political volcano whose destructive forces are liable to break loose any moment.

Are YOU Satisfied With Your Work and Income?

Are you a worker and willing to work for an income? If so, it might pay you to read on. No one will deny that there are a good many men who are making good salaries selling life insurance. They did not, however, become capable all at once. They just took hold, hung on, worked hard, and now have lucrative positions. The demand for life insurance is certain to increase. It is a common sense proposition and only needs to be put to common sense people in a common sense way. The recent changes in this business will only serve to make it more popular when they are understood. This spells opportunity for someone.

Just now there is an opening for the right man to represent a great insurance company. A liberal contract will be made for work in this section or elsewhere. It is not desired to attract those who are looking for a snap, or who have no persistence. If this work could be done without effort and by everybody, it would pay no one to do it. The fact that it is not dead easy is the reason it pays those who can do it so well.

If you are interested drop a line at once to the undersigned, give your references, and tell him something about yourself. Don't simply send your address—that alone will not fill the bill. All letters treated in strict confidence.

10 COMMANDMENTS FOR THE SUMMER GIRL

SOCIETY GOSSIP

The tenth commandment of the Summer girl is this:
Flirt not with thy hostess' husband, nor yet with her son, nor her brother, for thou hast eaten of her salt, and honor constraineth thee to wait until her back is turned.

When you go a-visiting, daughter, make yourself agreeable to the male relatives of your hostess. That is politeness. But be agreeable within strict fire limits. That is prudence. Be pleasant to them, but not overpleasant. Be fascinating, but not too fascinating. This is not always an easy thing to do. If a girl is pretty and attractive other women's sons and brothers have a way of falling in love with her, and it is a perilous undertaking to maintain toward them the precise psychological temperature and air that are sufficiently warm to satisfy them and still cool enough to please mamma and sister.

LOUIC BROKEN.
The difficulty is complicated by the fact that an older woman's position on the subject breaks every rule of logic and reason into smithereens, and it is the condition of a woman's temper on the subject, and not the theory of what ought to be, with which you have to contend.

And truth forces me to admit that nothing so sets a woman's nerves on edge as seeing a girl ensnare a man of her family right under her own eyes, unless she beholding the girl turn him down or he has done her the stupendous error of throwing the handkerchief to the mix!

The mix! The hussy! The bold baggage! to try to catch my Tom, or Dick, or Harry, when she was staying right in my own house!" cries mamma or sister in one case.

The ungrateful little wretch, to reason man like Tom, or Dick, or Harry, and after all I did for her, too, having her down here and entertaining her in my own house," walls mamma or sister in the other case.
So, whichever way you do, unless you preserve a strictly neutral attitude, you will be impaled on one horn or the other of the dilemma, and be neatly goaded to death. Therefore, if you are wise, daughter, you will head off the man who wants to make love to you under his own roof until some more convenient time and season when his female relatives will not be called upon to assist.

SEX PECULIARITY.
It is one of the peculiarities of our sex—oh, yes, you'll have it, too, if you live long enough—that no woman can bear with fortitude to see a man she loves making love to another woman. We may want our sons and brothers to marry. You may even be the girl we have picked out for our Tom, or Dick, or Harry. After you marry him we may receive you with open arms as a daughter or sister, but during the courtship your name is Anathema. We simply can't endure to sit by and look on while the surgical operation of amputating his heart from you and grafting it onto you is taking place.

So never make the mistake of thinking that you ingratiate yourself with your hostess by spending the hours of

ALL THE COMMANDMENTS.

NO. ONE—When thou travellest be not as the provincials are, for they are like unto the swine who hog it all, and their name is an abomination and a hiss in all men's mouths.

NO. TWO—Bear in mind that thou art not the only pebble on the beach, and that the Summer hotel is not run for thy exclusive behoof and benefit. So shall the sick and the halt and the sleepless arise and bless thy name.

NO. THREE—Consider thy raiment, yet put not all thy trust in clothes, for, lo, the race is not always to the fashion plate, nor the victory to the milliner's model.

NO. FOUR—Boast not of the splendor of thy home, nor of the number of thy man servants and thy maid servants, nor of the millionaires who wished to marry thee, for behold thy price tag is written upon thy forehead so that the woman who runs may read, and she will know thee for what thou art.

NO. FIVE—Take heed to thyself, and consider well what thou mayest do and what thou shouldst refrain from doing. Be not of those foolish, fat virgins who sit in hammocks, nor of the bony ones who go in swimming.

NO. SIX—Consider well thy conversation, for a woman standeth or falleth by her tongue.

NO. SEVEN—Look well to thy conduct, lest the snapshot artist come upon thee unawares.

NO. EIGHT—Guard well thy heart, for not every man who weareth a yachting cap owneth a skiff.

NO. NINE—When thou visitest move thy foot quickly out of thy friend's house, for it is better that people should weep because thou goest than to mourn because thou tarriest.

NO. TEN—Flirt not with thy hostess' husband, nor yet with her son, nor her brother, for thou hast eaten of her salt, and honor constraineth thee to wait until her back is turned.

your visit spooning with mamma's darling or sister's pet. She will think you less a sneakthief if you carried away the silver spoons in your trunk when you departed. Many girls fall into the error of believing that they flatter the woman they are visiting by flirting with her men kind, and never perceive their blunder until they suddenly awaken to the fact that their erstwhile cordial welcome is playing around the freezing point, with indications of a still further fall unless they move on.

Their experience is like that of a Louisiana girl I once knew who returned from a two weeks' stay on a plantation engaged to the lousiest son of her hostess—an engagement that she promptly broke as soon as she was safely back home again.

"What on earth made you do such a silly thing as get yourself into such an entanglement?" she was asked.

"Why," she naively exclaimed, "what else could I do? I couldn't refuse a man in his own house. It would have looked so unappreciative of the hospitality that his mother was showing me."

Which was, needless to remark, a point of view not shared by the young man's mother.

When it comes to a woman's husband the advice of "hands off" cannot be too strenuously insisted upon. A married man who takes advantage of a girl being a guest in his house or on his yacht or in his car to get sentimental with her is about the limit of a cad; but, unfortunately, he is ubiquitous, and any girl who goes about much is sure to meet him sooner or later.

COLD SHOULDER.

Give him such a cold shoulder, daughter, that you will make him feel that his name is Peary and that he has unexpectedly discovered the North Pole. Never, under any circumstances, flirt with a married man. It is bad morals and bad form. And bad judgment, for there's always some eligible man looking on getting points on the sort of girl that he doesn't want for a wife.

When you are a woman guest all these arguments against entangling alliances with benedicts apply with a thousand fold more fervor. The wife has trusted you. She is spending her time and her strength and her money trying to make you have a good time, and it is a poor return to her to amuse yourself by stabbing her heart with jealousy. Even a savage is loyal to the bread he has eaten, and having once partaken of a woman's hospitality you are in honor bound to treat her husband as you will want some other girl to treat yours some day.

So, daughter, when you go a-visiting bar out all the moonlight walks with your hostess' husband unless she goes along. Cut out the long heart-to-heart conversations on the shady end of the veranda of the summer cottage, and be taken down with sudden headaches when Mr. Benedict invites you to confidential drives. Thus shall you play fair with the woman who is entertaining you, and your fame will go forth as a maiden. It is safe to have around, and the bread you cast upon the waters will return to you in the angel food of many invitations to smart country places.

MARY ANDERSON ASSUMES ROLE OF CROSSING SWEEP

One rarely hears of Mary Anderson now. Since she became Mrs. Navarro she has withdrawn almost entirely from society. But recently when I was staying in Kent at a resort which is occasionally favored by the former famous actress I heard the following story of her, which I give you for what it is worth. She made the acquaintance of an old Irish crossing sweeper, whom she felt convinced should be, like herself, a Catholic. "And what Mass do you manage to go to?" she asked.

"Mass, indeed, ma'am," returned old Mary Donovan. "Sure, the only masses I have of earning my bread is when people are going to Mass and if I was absent from my pitch I'd lose my little earnings that I have to keep me a whole week."

Mary Anderson, who is a more devout

Catholic than ever, told the old woman that after having attended early Mass herself she would look after the crossing Mrs. Donovan went to a later service and that she would not only take charge of the broom, but also take the money. I am informed she kept her word.

Mary Anderson is considerably changed since the days when her beauty took the world by storm. Her features are still lovely, but she has become quite matronly and dresses very quietly. She tells her friends that she is the happiest woman in the world and that her life is ideal. "Will she ever go back to the stage?" she is often asked. "Back to the stage?" she replies. "Back to the stage? No, not for the wealth of Croesus."

Lillie Posing in Tights

PITTSBURG, Aug. 15.—Lillie Devlin, the English model, did not pose as a living picture today in nature's garb. Manager Kirk, of the Nixon Theater, worked at the last moment, and she wore tights in portraying La Touche's "The Bath," much to the chagrin of some who had gone early to get front seats.

Three-fourths of the audience did not know the difference. They thought she wore only heavy grease paint, as she had announced, and the applause was loud.

There was such a rush to see Miss Devlin that hundreds stood on the sidewalk in the morning to get tickets, and at night many were turned away.

MISS MERLE MADDEN.

The marriage of Miss Adelaide J. Ross and Paul S. Luttrell took place at noon today at the Hotel Metropole. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Edward Dempsey, pastor of St. Mary's Church.

The decorations were entirely in red, a pretty combination of brilliant carnations and roses.

The bride wore a gown of imported silk poplin made over tulle with lace bodice. Her only ornament was a diamond crescent, the gift of the groom. A picture hat with white plumes completed the costume.

Miss Ruby M. Read was the maid of honor and wore a gown of pink silk.

R. R. Read acted as best man. An informal reception and wedding breakfast followed the ceremony, to which twenty-five relatives and close friends had been invited.

Mr. and Mrs. Luttrell will enjoy a six months' tour of the Northwest, going first to Lake Tahoe.

The bride is a daughter of the late Joseph Ross, senior member of the old firm of Snow & Ross.

Luttrell is the son of the late J. K. Luttrell, who has held various political offices in this State. He was appointed Fish Commissioner to Alaska under President Cleveland's term and was elected by his son, who has given government work for business purposes.

WILL APPEAR HERE.

Miss Merle Madden, who has become popular at society affairs as a reader of the modern poetic dramas, will go to New York in September to join the company of her cousin, Mrs. Minnie Madden Fluke, for a tour of the Southern States. Miss Madden is a talented girl and is to be congratulated upon her good fortune that her artistic conscience is developed under the greatest American actress.

Before Miss Madden's departure will read "The Death of Tintagiles" Friday evening, August 24, under auspices of the Players' Club of a media.

SPOUSE QUICKLY CHANGES MIND IN DIVORCE MATTER

Visited by Wife, Who Dresses Him Down

CHICAGO, Aug. 15.—Max Isen, an experienced man of this city, recently filed suit for divorce, but one day he came before Judge Scovel in the Municipal court and withdrew the bill, stating that the old love for his wife had come back and that he was sorry he ever began the divorce proceedings at all.

Isen's action was the direct result of a little comedy which was enacted at the corner of Division street and Milwaukee avenue when Mrs. Isen learned that she had been sued by the partner of her sorrows. As soon as the subpoena was served upon her she went to the corner where her husband was lounging in his express wagon waiting for a customer. She dragged him to the sidewalk.

"Bang!" Her clenched fist landed on Isen's right optic with sufficient force to tint it a delicate blue and purple. "Do you love me now?" she demanded. "Oh, I love you better than all the world!" Ow, my eye!

"Bing! Bump!" The other eye took on the delicate shades.

"Now do you want to be divorced from me?" "No! No! No! You're the sweetest angel that ever lived. I don't want to lose you. Never! Oh, my poor head!" Mrs. Isen's shoe then found her hubby's ribs.

RUN ALONG AND MARRY, SAYS JUDGE

BUTLER, Pa., Aug. 15.—It has been decreed here that a young woman who wants to marry a certain young man should not be forced to wed some one else—that is, of course, in case the first mentioned man is willing.

Justice Joseph Criswell, of Lyndora, made this ruling when Annie Morris, a pretty 16-year-old girl, was brought before him charged with incontinence by her father. She had refused to marry

"Oh, I'll withdraw the bill," he cried. "I love you too much to divorce you."

At this stage of the proceedings two policemen interfered and took the husband and wife to the station. The stay in a cell overnight did not cool Isen's love and when he was taken to court he could hardly wait to be released in order that he might withdraw the divorce bill.

Should stage kissing be prohibited? This man, the one who writes this, thinks it should and he says: "Now, I am a modest man, and I do not care to watch lovers embracing each other in the top of automobiles. If you see a young man and a young woman kissing, my instinct is to look in another direction. If I happen to be in the car, where there is no escape, I feel horribly uncomfortable every time my eye lights on them, and would give the world to be somewhere else."

This, I think, is the attitude of the average man. We all feel that kisses are things at which we are not intended to be present, and if we are forced to witness them, we either blush or giggle like Drac, sending him word at the altar that she had changed her mind and that Adam Jackson looked good to her. The father, who had promised her to make, had her arrested.

"I heard the testimony," after he had heard the testimony, "you run right along and get married to Adam as soon as you like. They can't force you to marry Mike so long as I am justice in Butler County and Adam wants you and you want him."

She is Never Broke.

"I never really go broke," said the busy woman, "because I always keep something on hand that I can take back to one of the big stores and get the money refunded. Such goods are the best kind of an investment. Only yesterday I returned six pairs of silk gloves. I bought them a few weeks ago, when I was flush. I thought I might need them some time; I didn't it was an easy matter to get my money back. Last week, being a according to our nature. The majority of people, I admit, giggle. The blush and the giggle both arise from the same cause, however. They are both the result of being where we ought not to be, of seeing what we are not meant to see.

We cannot demand, however, that the stage shall give us only such scenes as we could be present at in real life without feeling uncomfortable. In real life, for example, we should not care to find our imaginations. We are excited by the beautiful words, the darkened stage, the gentle voices. A realistic kiss between the lovers would bring us suddenly down from heaven to earth again. We ought always to be kept expecting lovers to kiss; this keeps us strung up to the mood of romance. We ought not to be allowed to see them kissing, however, for we look on a kiss as a sort of end all, and anything that comes after it can only be repetition.

time of financial stress, I took back a $15 dress pattern. Fortunately, I had never had it cut into, and when I found I wasn't going to need the dress this season, I got the money refunded. I still have on hand two lace waists that I haven't worn. If business doesn't pick up soon I'll return them. But just as soon as I get in good luck again I'll lay in another supply of returnable dry goods. They are as good as a bank account any day."

HOW THEY ELOPE

The cooing man puts a careless arm around the waist of the halcyon girl. While over the dustless, mudless In a horseless wagon they whirl. Like a leaden bullet from ham-fisted smokeless powder driven, They fly to taste the speechless bliss of endless union given.

The only luncheon the cooing affords to them the means is a tasteless meal of boneless cod. With a dish of stringless beans. He smokes his old tobaccoless pipe, and laughs a mirthless laugh when papa tries to coax her back By wireless telegraph.

WON'T GUARANTEE BILL TO SAVE WIFE'S LIFE

CLEVELAND, Aug. 15.—Simon Schollmeyer, 50, who has already spent a year and a half in the county jail for failure to pay his wife, Lottie, alimony, told Judge Kennedy today that he would not guarantee that a bill for $75 would be paid for an operation to save his wife's life.

Judge Kennedy ordered Schollmeyer to bring his bank books and a statement of his financial condition into court Friday afternoon, when he would dispose of the case.

William A. Minshall, attorney for Mrs. Schollmeyer, said that the woman was on her deathbed and that the doctors said she had only one chance for life, and that was an operation which would cost $75. The attorney's statement that his wife had but a few days to live had little effect on Schollmeyer.

WOMEN BACHELOR PALS ENJOY LIFE

The feminine friendships which are such a feature of this age are never more in evidence than at the holiday season. Two "pals," belonging to the large and increasing class of bachelor women, go away together to have a good time, and as a rule succeed in attaining their desire more effectively than most of us in this disappointing world. One meets them everywhere—at railway stations, and in hotels and boarding houses—happy, capable and energetic. Generally, they are middle-aged, past that period of life when man and his possibilities are of

CZAR NICHOLAS OFTEN VISITS HIS TWO SONS AND THEIR MOTHER WHO WAS HIS EARLY LOVE

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 15.—Such extraordinary measures are taken to protect the czar that his appearance before the public is as little known to his people as that of the Chinese Emperor to his faithful subjects. His one pleasure in life at Peterhof, which he has just left, is a reversion to his early love.

He drives frequently to the neighboring village of Skelnia, ostensibly to visit his uncle, the Grand Duke Constantine, but here also is the home of Mile. Keskinkaya, the prima ballerina of the St. Petersburg Opera, with whom he was made in love while hardly more than a boy. The beauty that was budding then is now mature in the woman of almost forty, but it has not lost its charm, and the two boys who bore the czar are still his dearest treasures. The elder is now seventeen. Keskinkaya refused several lucrative engagements this summer in order to be in Skelnia.

The czar's orbit has also touched that of another sentimental memory. Among his guests at Peterhof has been Grand Duchess Militsah, wife of the Grand Duke Peter. She was originally chosen to be the consort of the czar, but her frivolities in St. Petersburg defeated this project, and she was obliged to content herself with Peter. She was a Princess of Montenegro, and now finds a real enjoyment in catering to the czar's mystical tendencies, and supplies him with his astrologers, soothsayers and saints.

The police for ten days before the czar's departure from Peterhof for the Gulf of Finland patrolled the roads, obliging the owners of villas to keep indoors, with windows tightly closed, on the day of their ruler's passing. Secret police were posted behind every hedge.

SCORES LAZY ARISTOCRATS WITH EASY-GOING WIVES

Marie Corelli Deals Out Fresh Jabs to Men Who Marry Solely That They May Live Idle Lives.

LONDON, Aug. 15.—Marie Corelli makes another attack on "mere men" in writing. The heroine, a beautiful novelist, marries a worthless earl of ancient lineage. The purpose of the story, she says, is "to expose the lazy noodles of aristocrats who spend their time first in accumulating debts and then in looking about for women with money to pay them; a woman upon whose income they can afterward live comfortably for the rest of their worthless lives."

Miss Corelli speaks of "the miserable position voluntarily held by certain noblemen, who, because they have placed themselves in the unnatural and unbefitting condition of owing everything to their wives' money, permit these wives to play fast and loose with their honor and good name and apparently shut their eyes to infidelities which make them a byword of contempt of all self-respecting commoners."

SHOULD GET OUT AND WORK.

"It would be a wholesome and refreshing stimulus to society," she continues, "if such bloodsuckers could be made to the fact that manhood is better than money and of their own free will and choice would go out to hard labor in the gold fields or elsewhere and earn their own livelihood bravely and independently instead of lounging and frittering away their days as silent, inactive spectators of their wives' open and wanton degradation."

Further on she writes: "It is certain that the attention of woman's destiny has not yet been carried out. She is fighting toward it, but is using her weapons wildly and in various directions. It is not by opposing herself to man that she can be his real helpmeet, neither by supporting him on her money, whether such money be earned or inherited, nor by adopting his pastimes and aping his manners."

WHAT WOMEN SHOULD DO.
"It is by cultivating and cherishing to the utmost every sweet and sacred sentiment of womanhood, every grade of refinement and beauty; by taking her share of the world's intellectual work with force as well as with modesty; by showing a faultless example of gentle reserve and delicate chastity."

"When man begins to understand that woman is not meant to be a toy or a drug, but a comrade, the closest, best and truest God has given him, the clouds will clear and marriage will be a delicate chastity."

WOMEN BACHELOR PALS ENJOY LIFE

The feminine friendships which are such a feature of this age are never more in evidence than at the holiday season. Two "pals," belonging to the large and increasing class of bachelor women, go away together to have a good time, and as a rule succeed in attaining their desire more effectively than most of us in this disappointing world. One meets them everywhere—at railway stations, and in hotels and boarding houses—happy, capable and energetic. Generally, they are middle-aged, past that period of life when man and his possibilities are of such absorbing interest, for enduring feminine friendship rarely begins before thirty. After all that has been argued and said on this subject, the primary instinct of a young woman remains to be attractive, and every girl is inevitably conscious of a possible rival in every other. It is later that she realizes the delight of a sympathetic camaraderie with one of her own sex of similar tastes and age, and few ties are firmer for practical purposes than the one which binds the two ordinary-looking spinsters who spend August together, either climbing mountains in Switzerland, or indulging in a delicious, do-nothing solitude for two, by the summer sea.

Woman's Vision of The Vampire

(With Apologies to Kipling.)

A fool there was and she lowered her pride (Even as you and I)
To a bunch of conceit in a masquerade hide (We saw the faults that could not be-died),
But the fool saw only his manly side (Even as you and I).

Oh! the love we laid on our own heart's grave With the care of our head and hand, (Belong to the man who did not know (And now we know that he never could know) And did not understand.

A fool there was and her best she gave (Even as you and I)
Of noble thoughts, of gay and grave (And all were accepted as due to the brave)
But a fool would never have fully saved (Even as you and I).

Oh! the stabs he hid, which the Lord forbid Had ever been really planned. We took from the man who didn't know why (And now we know he never knew why) And did not understand.

The fool was loved while the game was new (Even as you and I)
And when it was played she took her cue (Plodding along as meet of us do)
Trying to keep his faults from view (Even as you and I).

And it isn't the ache of the heart or its break That stings like a white-hot brand. It is learning to know that she raised a god And bent her head to kiss the rod For one who could not understand.

WILE. GARBAGE DUMP THREATENS DEATH

(From S. F. Examiner, Aug. 14.)
The maintenance of a dumping ground by the city, the carelessness of the Oakland Gas, Light and Heat Company, and the nauseating and sickening odors that arise from a number of sewers that empty into the neck of Lake Merritt, has caused a storm of protest to be raised by the residents in that vicinity. At the last meeting of the Oakland City Council a petition signed by seventeen property owners and residents was presented. This petition protested especially against the burning of the garbage and waste matter which had been dumped along the strip of water.
The few weeks fire has been smoldering in the heap of debris gleaned from the city's streets and private family rear yards. Foreman of the dump, William Morris, acting under orders from the street department, has had a stream of water playing upon the fire off and on during that time, but this seems to be ineffectual, and the fire breaks out afresh every few days. The smoke arising from the smoldering mass of debris is swept by a brisk wind directly east and south of the lake and is carried into the homes of some of Oakland's best residents for blocks around. The smoke is heavily laden with a nauseous odor, and often carries germs of sickness. Even when the dump isn't burning the odors arising therefrom are most disagreeable.
Property on all sides of the pile of rubbish and garbage has deteriorated considerably from the substances which has been going on for nearly two years.

Within the last year and a half the dump has given considerable annoyance, but the worst nuisance is that arising from the sewers and the gas main. My daughters, in going to and from school, have continually complained of headaches and illness caused from breathing the foul air."
Henry Louey, residing at the junction of First avenue and Ninth streets, is another who complains of the nuisance of the dump and sewers. Yesterday he was found carrying water to and from his house to a burning heap of rubbish, which he was endeavoring to put out.

Board of Public Works, said last evening that the dump was the outcome of an order of the City Council a year and a half ago, authorizing that the ground be thrown open to private parties as a dumping ground. The provision was made, however, that no garbage, such as meats, vegetables or debris of that character, should be dumped on the plot. Papers, sawdust, cinders, cans and the like were permissible.

Origin of the Dump

"Instead," said Mr. Fawcett, "those people, granted the privilege of using the dumping ground, have from time to time hauled garbage and left it buried under waste matter of different kinds. Some weeks ago small boys set fire to the heaps of rubbish and soon the entire dump was afire. The Board of Public Works and the street department since that time have kept men at work fighting the fire. The boys still continue to bother them, however, and fire has been started since."
"The purpose of allowing private parties to dump their waste matter in the first place on the west bank of the channel leading from the estuary to Lake Merritt was to build a foundation for a fill on the east side of the marsh. The intervening space between this fill and Fallon street is to be built up by dredging Lake Merritt. The Board of Public Works, at its meeting this morning, adopted resolutions recommending the beginning of this work at once."

Some months ago it was recommended to the council that $60,000 be appropriated for the purpose of dredging Lake Merritt and $40,000 more to erect a retaining wall on each side of the channel between the estuary and Lake Merritt, thus forming a passageway for the water. These appropriations are to be incorporated in the budget soon to be presented to the council for the next fiscal year. If they are allowed, work will commence at once. The low land between Fallon street on the west, Eighth street on the south, Twelfth street on the north and the channel on the east, is to be filled in with the residue from the dredging of Lake Merritt.
In the meantime the garbage heap continues to burn, and the residents on the east side of the lake continue to complain of the disagreeable odors and foul-smelling gases.

GERMANS WILL PAY LOSSES

All Except One Company Agree on Terms of Settlement for Great Fire.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Gustav Guttsch, who was sent to Germany ten months ago as representative of the Trans-Atlantic Policyholders' Association for the purpose of settling the possible claims against German insurance companies by policyholders who suffered losses in the fire, returned to San Francisco Wednesday.

Guttsch reports that he succeeded while in Germany in receiving guarantees from all companies with one exception, to pay on all policies represented by him from 40 to 74 per cent of the value of the claims. The only company which declined to agree was the North German Lloyd.

The North German Lloyd agreed to pay 40 per cent and will probably pay before final settlement is made at least 43 per cent. The North German agreed to pay 57 per cent, the Helvetia 50 per cent and the Austrian Phoenix 74 per cent.

MAYOR HAS BODYGUARD

Mayor Lyon has had City Expert Gearheart sworn in as a deputy sheriff to act as a bodyguard for him, and they will demand Upson's arrest on their arrival in Oakland.

Mayor Lyons' parents are residents of Oakland.

Mrs. Lyons' mother, Mrs. Elsey, resides at Eleventh and Grove streets, Oakland.

TELLS OF ATTACK

A friend of Mayor W. Parker Lyon, of Fresno, who accompanied him on his trip to Lake county, and who was also with him in the accident to his automobile in the tunnel Sunday last, was found this morning, and from him the following statement was obtained:

"The attack upon me at Cloverdale by J. F. Upson, was secured by a TRIBUNE reporter.

The story of the attack is published on the first page of this paper. Here is the statement made by Lyon's friend:

Mayor Lyon was examining his automobile alone at a residence in Cloverdale when he was surprised in being confronted by J. A. Upson who, he supposed at the time still serving time in the Fresno county jail, having received a six-months' sentence for residing in and about questionable houses.

"At the point of a revolver, Upson compelled the mayor to open and read part of

KANASS TRIBES SEEK REVENGE

Moroccans Furious Over Bombardment and Would Retaliate on Caid McLean.

TANGIER, Aug. 15.—There is still much uneasiness here in the matter of the position of the Europeans in Morocco. No confirmation of the report that Caid Sir Harry McLean has been released can be obtained.

A courier and servant from MacLean have just arrived here and say that it is believed that the news of the bombardment of Casa Blanca made a very bad impression on the Kanass tribesmen, and caused the suspension of the negotiations for MacLean's release.

The tribesmen are furious against all Christians and wish to be revenged on MacLean, who is provided by Raimul. The latest letter from MacLean is dated August 12.

When the complaint alleged that the two men discovered a set of harness in Johnson's stable which appeared to them as a likely article to steal. Accordingly they made arrangements with a second-hand dealer to purchase the harness.

Then Graham applied to Johnson for a position in the stable. He was given the job shortly afterward. Johnson left the place for a short time.

During his absence the man disappeared. The harness was not found, and conviction of the two men followed.

Patient Must Have His Tongue Cut Out

BERKELEY, Aug. 15.—O. S. McBurnie, a lively stable proprietor, who was charged with a bigamy last March and who left for the city prison on a charge of bigamy, was yesterday sentenced to have his tongue cut out.

McBurnie claims he will lose his tongue, because, he says, the dentist cut the organ with an infected instrument. Cancer has developed on the tongue and surgeons have ordered the member amputated, saying that death can be avoided in this way but not otherwise.

When McBurnie lived in Berkeley he conducted a lively stable on Shattuck avenue and he came into prominence in police circles when a woman named Florence Taylor caused his arrest. McBurnie was charged with bigamy. She claimed that McBurnie's first wife lived in Presque Isle, Me. The case went to Judge Quinn in Oakland and finally was dismissed, the prosecuting witness failing to appear against the defendant.

Shortly after the dismissal of the case McBurnie left Berkeley and it was said the Taylor woman was in the city prison.

Girl Pursues Father From Room to Room While Both Madly Fire at Each Other.

NEW YORK, Aug. 15.—George Wassner, after four years' absence, returned home today, shot his wife and was shot and wounded in the head by his daughter.

Wassner, on entering his home, upbraided his wife for anxiously causing his arrest recently on a charge of having tried to assault their youngest daughter.

STEAMER BARELY ESCAPES ROCKS OFF FORT POINT

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—An eleven-hour battle waged by two stanch little tugs against the swift tidal currents of the bay, finally saved the splendid oil steamer Santa Maria from destruction on the rocks off Fort Point this morning.

The Santa Maria began to drift rapidly and undoubtedly would have heaved herself upon the rocks had it not been for the Sea Rover, which was just coming from the head of the harbor on the ship W. H. Macy. The captain of the tug saw the distress of the big vessel and quickly made a mad dash for the east line. However, the Rover could not save the craft alone, and word was sent to the city Superintendent of Land of the oil company hurried out on the tug Sea Witch.

The two tugs stayed by her for eleven hours while the currents sucked her gradually in toward the rocks. In the meantime, however, the engineers had been working frantically on the oil burners, and at 6 o'clock this morning they were placed in service once more.

Under her own power again the Santa Maria was able to dislodge the two gallant tugs and proceed with her voyage after having narrowly escaped the rocks.

LONERGAN RELATES HOW IMMUNITY DEAL IS MADE

Also Tells of Proposed Water Ordinance That Was Expected to Make Riches for Somebody.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—At the afternoon session of the Glass trial, proceedings were interrupted for a few moments in order that arrangements might be made for Juror Edward W. Stranahan to talk with his wife, who is at the deathbed of her father in Santa Clara county, over the long-distance telephone. Both prosecution and defense were entirely willing.

Ex-Superintendent Lonergan was recalled to the witness stand. He had just testified that Gurne told him when he came to the city that he had been promised that he would not be disturbed in office. Delmas further testified that Lonergan's testimony was a water ordinance "that would raise the hair right off your head."

"What was the meaning?" asked Delmas. "That there would be so much money it would raise your hair," was the answer.

The witness then went on to tell all the details of the promise of immunity was made.

SALT WATER IN USE ON STREET

City Pumping Plant Begins Its Operations for Sprinkling Purposes.

The street department this morning began sprinkling from the new city pumping station established on the north side of the Twelfth street dam between the two boat houses. A two horse-power electric motor and a centrifugal pump, which will fill a 500-gallon wagon in four minutes, are being used. The city is now taking thirty loads of water per day from the station with two carts.

The boulevard is being sprinkled from East Twelfth street to Eighteenth street, and the Twelfth street dam from First avenue to Oakland avenue. Fallon street is also being sprinkled from Eighth to Thirteenth street. It is the intention of the street department to put in pumping stations all around the lake.

This use of salt water saves the city $5 a day in water bills, and leaves a crust on the streets and makes the affect more lasting than when fresh water is used.

ROOMERS FEAR CRAZED MAN

Threatens Various Persons With Shotgun—Locked Up on Insanity Charge.

SPECIAL TO THE TRIBUNE. SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 15.—Francisco Briant was arrested this morning by Police Officer Haulk on a warrant sworn to before Police Judge Walter charging him with disturbing the peace.

Briant has recently amused himself lately by threatening the lives of the other occupants of the rooming-house where he lives on Stockton street, of a loaded shotgun. So violent has Briant become at times that the landlord and his lodgers have feared for their lives.

When the man was brought to the city prison this morning he exhibited so many signs of insanity that it was decided to change the charge to insanity instead of disturbing the peace. He was sent to the detention hospital this afternoon.

BERKELEY, Aug. 15.—Arrangements are being made today for the presentation to Miss Maybelle Watson of the gold diamond-studded watch which citizens of the town have purchased for her, in recognition of her bravery in the hours following the wreck of the steamer Columbia.

Miss Watson will receive the gold watch at her parents' home, 2630 Channing way. The committee which purchased the watch, of which Miss William Keith is chairman, will make the presentation. Several town officials will participate in the affair. The presentation probably will take place Saturday afternoon. Miss Watson said today:

STANDS BY HAWSE. "THE TRIBUNE" printed yesterday my statement regarding the evidence I have to give in the matter of charges against Officer Hawse. I have stated before, and am ready to repeat, that he was a brave man and conducted himself as a gentleman in the trying times after the wreck. I am writing an affidavit about his conduct which I believe he wishes to up before the board and steamship inspectors of the government in San Francisco. It will be ready in a few days."

Miss Watson will re-enter the McKinley school next Monday.

WANT TWENTY FOR MILITIA

Meeting of Proposed New Company Members Listen to Rousing Addresses.

BERKELEY, Aug. 15.—There were twenty-five of the forty members of the Berkeley guard present at the meeting of that organization held in the town hall last night.

Victor Robertson, president of the conference committee of the Berkeley Improvement clubs, made an address to the members, and was noisily applauded for his efforts. He spoke of the good work which could be done by a good company of National guardsmen and complimented them for the interest they were showing in the organizing of the company. E. H. Marshall, of the Berkeley post-office, delivered a short address.

TWENTY MORE NEEDED

It was decided during a meeting that the recruiting committee would meet at the town hall Saturday evening and receive all applications for membership in the company. It was also decided that the guard unit, an entire company of sixty men had been secured by the recruiting committee. This will be a comparatively easy task, as only twenty more men are needed, the company having a membership of forty at present.

TAPPAN DECIDES GARCIA WAS PROVOKED

ALAMEDA, Aug. 15.—Tim Garcia, arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace of Joseph Mazzini of the Berkeley Improvement club, was yesterday acquitted of the charge by Justice R. T. Tappan. The men quarreled for some unknown reason and the testimony yesterday showed that Garcia struck Mazzini. Justice Tappan, however, decided that Mazzini provoked and acquitted Garcia. Mazzini stated that Garcia was causing him to leave his employment and that he was attacking him when he was struck without cause.

CONTESTANTS FOR LABOR-DAY CONTEST AT WORK

McDonald May Train Ketchel--Thomas Boxing With Bill Squires--Flynn Wants Match.

BY EDDIE SMITH.

Heavyweight's Labor Day, water-weight attraction, is fast becoming the most popular of the padded fist game. Joe Thomas, the champion, and Ketchel, or rather Young Ketchel, as he is called, who is the challenger, are both located at their training camps and the work of conditioning going on with remarkable determination on the part of both of the contestants.

Thomas is lending his effort to perfect his boxing condition. He has had a good deal of the Montana and as a result at this time would mean that Joe has his way to the top of his class only to be knocked down before he had a chance to either suffer the benefits from an honorary standpoint, or financially money-getter.

When Thomas and Ketchel met last 4th of July, and fought the toughest of the season, the result was a draw. The opinion that the champion was still in good shape so far as perfect physical condition went. It is his opinion, however, that he did not do enough boxing with opponents that he could hit at the consequent result was that he overlooked many openings that he would have taken advantage of if he had his boxing eye with him.

During the contest he certainly did overlook some dandy chances and it was the fact that gave many at the contest the opinion that the champion was still in good shape so far as perfect physical condition went. It is his opinion, however, that he did not do enough boxing with opponents that he could hit at the consequent result was that he overlooked many openings that he would have taken advantage of if he had his boxing eye with him.

His physical condition was as near perfect as a fighter could wish for. If it had been, he would never have wobbled through that eleventh round. Ketchel will in the coming contest, have some thing with him that will add materially to his chances. He like Thomas, was in perfect condition for the fight, but during the last few hours before the sound of the bell that sent the men to work for the first round, the Montana champion suffered so much from nervousness that he was weakened to some extent. Harry Foley, the manager and trainer of the champion, helped this fact along by continually pestering the novice with a world of questioning advice.

In the coming fight the confidence that he has stored away that he is the better man, will keep him from becoming nervous to the weakening extent and he will enter the ring an equally better man with the champion.

Thomas, who is training at Shannon's in San Rafael, is devoting most of his time to work to boxing. He has as sparring partners Bill Squires and Ed Carney. Harry Foley visits the camp every day and does the work of sparring at the camp, or to put it plainly, he does the heavy work. Harry does not like to be by the champion, especially as he is the one that poked him from the amateur ranks and boosted him along to the championship.

Ketchel, while training for the last Thomas fight, had Joe Elliott for a sparring partner. Elliott is about the same size as the Montana fighter, and proved a hardy match for him.

Ketchel is a rough boxer, and during the practice stunts in the gymnasium, he lets fly with all his force whenever the opportunity for a good punch presents itself. For this reason, the life of Elliott was not a very pleasant one, which was shown by a letter he wrote to a friend in San Francisco advising him to get aboard the band wagon, as Ketchel was in his opinion, a sure winner. He advised the friend that the northern man was knocking him down two or three times a day, and the only thing that made him stick to the job was the fact that he did not have enough money to get home on.

Jimmy O'Connor, manager of Ketchel, has secured the services of big George Sullivan, the heavyweight who fought several times at the Reliance Club as a sparring partner for Ketchel. Sullivan is just the man that a manager would want for a rough fellow like the Kid. He will be always coming in and taking the wallop, but as he is fairly clever, there is little danger of the fighter hurting himself or his hands. Manager O'Connor is also endeavoring to secure the services of "Molly" McDonald, who has been one of the most successful trainers of fighters on the coast for the past few years.

McDonald has been at Los Angeles for the past two years, where he trained some of the best men that appeared there. He trained Joe Gans for his fight with Battling Nelson at Goldfield, which was itself a masterly piece of work. Before leaving for Los Angeles, he had of winners so often around San Francisco, that it became the fact for some of the better to play the men he trained, the same as some men play certain jockeys.

Joe Gans, who is successful in securing the services of McDonald, he will be in luck in that it will be a guarantee that he will be in the pink of condition when he makes the important try for the championship, which he will make on September 2, at Colma.

Jim Flynn, the Colorado heavyweight, is just fretting himself to death while waiting for a match to show up. He writes his manager, "Molly" McDonald, every day asking him to get some one to put him on with.

McDonald is trying to get the San Francisco promoters to put him on with Bill Squires, if that individual wants another chance. Flynn is just the man for Squires. He is a tough, hard hitting fellow who can stand a world of punishment and if Squires can beat him he is entitled to another chance at the good ones.

Joe Gorman Wins From Al Neill

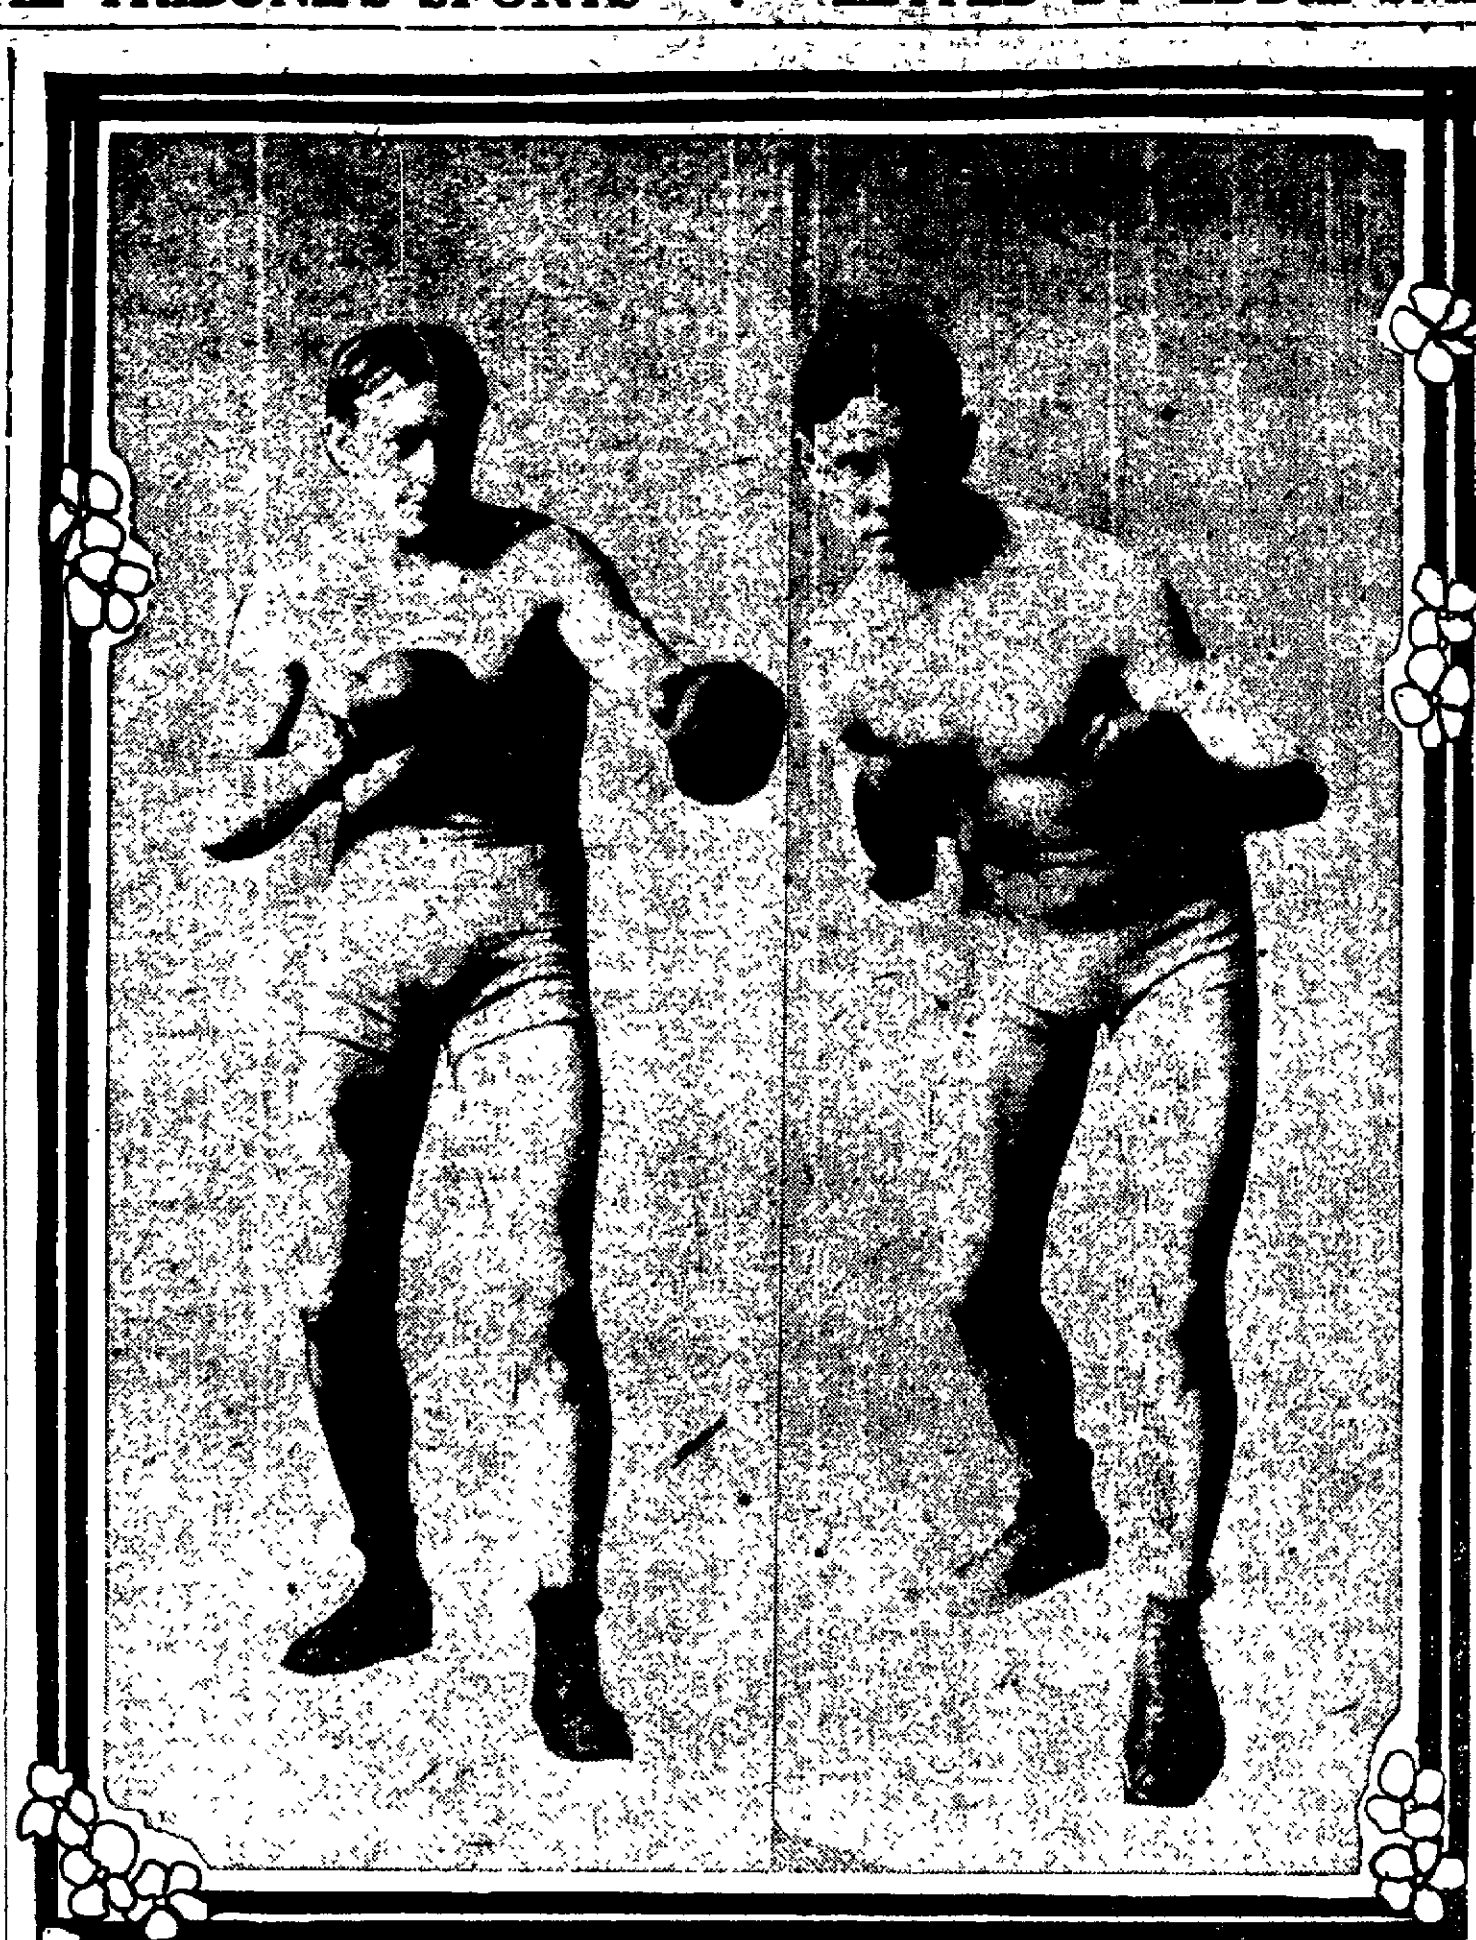

JOSE ROSA, Aug. 15.—Joe Gorman made the decision over Al Neill at the close of their twenty-round bout here last night. Gorman outpointed Neill at most of the rounds, but he was unable to put the finishing touches on the antagonist. He had Neill hanging on the ropes a dozen times or more during the go, but the latter used good generalship and managed to last the fight to the end. Neill was the victor in the first round, but Gorman was the aggressor throughout. Neill was knocked out by Gorman in the twelfth round, but he got up although badly beaten. The fight was an interesting one throughout and gave a good deal of excitement to the crowd. The men were knocked through the ropes in the first round.

Joe Gans Will Referee Game

Joe Gans, the world's lightweight champion, will try his hand at a new game tonight when he referees the roller skating polo match, between the Idora park team and the crack team of the West Oakland rink.

The game is a new one on the champion, but he has displayed much interest in it. He has the rules down as well as many who have studied the game since it was first introduced here.

Much interest is being taken in the game and a great amount of money has already been bet. The roller skating polo match will be a betting and will become brisk and by the time the teams get started considerable money will be ready to change hands on the track.

YOUNG KETCHEL AND JOE THOMAS, WHO WILL BATLE FOR THE WORLD'S CHAMPIONSHIP SEPTEMBER 2.

High School Athletes Angry Over Charges

Oakland High School students are indignant over charges of professionalism made about George Tomasini by Berkeley High School track and football men. As far as the talk of Tomasini's being "bought off" is concerned, it only arises from a diseased state of mind of the Berkeleyites, caused by the failure of their plan to steal Tomasini from Oakland.

Tomasini, when spoken to, said: "Bolster and I worked together at Suisun this summer. I told him I was going to High School this coming term and he told me that Oakland gave better 'reps' for college than Berkeley High. He also told me of the prospects for Oakland High in football and on the track. I then promised him I would come to Oakland. When I arrived in town, over a week ago, some Berkeley High fellows met me and made a lot of misstatements about Oakland to me, telling me in particular that the Oakland team would be thrown out of the league on charge of professionalism. I believed their talk and went to Berkeley. Since then I found out that there would be no professionalism on the Oakland High team, so I came to Oakland. I had promised Bolster to do it. If Al Hartley or any other Berkeley fellow says I was 'bought off' by Oakland High he lies. As far as their other charges are concerned, I am twenty years of age, as the records of the A. A. L. will show, and I have never played professional ball in my life."

Harold Bolster, the manager of the Oakland football eleven, treated the whole matter as a sort of a joke. "Those Berkeley fellows must think the Standard Oil Company is backing Oakland High, by the way they talk about us buying athletes. Who ever heard of a school here paying fellows to play football or go on the track? It would bankrupt a school in short order to try that stunt."

George Tomasini, the athlete who is the cause of the dispute, is not only a good track man, but the best half-back in the league. He made All A. A. L. full-back in the years 1904-05-06, when he was playing with Palo Alto High. He is a broad jumper, shot putter and hammer thrower of exceptional ability, being expected to win first place in those events in the field days he competes in. He is six feet three inches tall, weighs 208 pounds and can run the hundred yard dash in ten and three-fifths seconds, so the Oakland boys are congratulating themselves on his presence in their school.

Garden City Club Holds Boxing Bout

SAN JOSE, Aug. 15.—The recently organized Garden City Athletic Club held its first boxing exhibition last night in the Auditorium rink. Five four-round bouts were advertised, but three of them failed to reach the limit by reason of the marked superiority of one of the fighters in each case. Harry Baker of San Francisco acted as referee in place of Eddie Graney, who was detained by illness, and his decisions gave general satisfaction.

The first bout was between George Ritchie and Willie Canole, both of San Francisco, at 115 pounds. It was little more than a sparring exhibition and was declared a draw. Walter Dunn took the second fight on points from Frank Baroni at 125 pounds. Both men were from San Francisco.

In the third event Jimmie Quinn, announced as the undefeated 125 pound fighter of San Francisco, met his Waterloo in the second round. He declared that he was faking. As Eddie Young of San Jose palpably had him going, Young was given the decision.

The first of the main events was between George Martin and Pete Sullivan, both of San Francisco. It was little more than a sparring exhibition and was stopped in the third round, Martin being all but out. Sullivan was his superior at every stage.

Dick Hart of Sacramento was given the decision in the middle of the San Francisco bout, but he was overruled by the referee, who gave the fight to San Francisco.

Joy's Wild Throw Gives Portland Game

Barney Joy threw his own game away at Portland yesterday after he had held the Beaver batsmen down to four measly bingles. In the fifth inning the big twirler lined the ball over First Baseman Williams' head so hard that it rolled to the right field fence before it could be stopped. Chae and Burdette, who were on second and third, scored, and Barney, whose bunt received such vigorous handling, went around to the third sack. This scoring ended here and the two left runs proved enough to win the game.

Reliance Wrestler Offered Match

Chester McIntyre the wrestling instructor at the Reliance club and champion middleweight of the northwest, has received an offer from W. Conlehan, manager of the Longmont theater at Longmont, Colorado, of a match at catch-as-catch-can wrestling, with Emil Klank, the Colorado champion, who has been doing such excellent work around Denver, where wrestling has become so popular during the last year. McIntyre has not as yet decided whether or not he will accept.

Britt-Gans Arena Is Selected

Jack Gleason has finally decided to stage the Britt-Gans fight at the baseball ground on Valencia street. This decision was reached yesterday after a meeting with the directors of the San Francisco Baseball Association.

The intention of Gleason to have the men work all Sunday night after the Sunday game. In this way he claims that he will be able to receive the crowd very handsily on Monday afternoon.

The selection met with the approval of the managers of the fighters. The ring will be pitched between the pitcher's box and second base and well within the view of the present seats.

The lack of talk and wrangle of the old-time managers was, to say the least, refreshing, and it would be a good idea if some of the up-to-date managers followed a little the manners of Delaney and Hogan. The following are the articles as signed:

Jack Clifford Wins From Rufe Turner

SAN DIEGO, Aug. 15.—Two thousand fight fans, the largest crowd in the history of the sport in this city, saw a gruelling match of eleven rounds in the Jack Clifford-Rufe Turner bout here tonight. The fight was one of the big-bang variety throughout, Clifford having the best of it in nearly every round. In the eleven rounds of fighting Turner was knocked down five times. He was up promptly each time, however, coming right back for more. At the close of the eleventh round Clifford planted a hard right swing on Turner's jaw. The old-timer went down like a dog, and would have been counted out but for the gong. His seconds dragged him to his corner and had him ready for the opening of the twelfth round. When he stepped to the center and put up his hands, he discovered that big jaw had been broken, and told his seconds that he could not go on. The club physician was called, and after an examination, stopped the fight, announcing that Turner's jawbone had been broken.

Bill Roche Will Referee Big Mill

Billy Delaney and Billy Hogan met last night at the rooms of the San Francisco Athletic Club and signed articles for the coming Schreck-Kaufman fight and selected Billy Roche, the Bowery boy, as the referee of the contest.

Little of any consequence happened, the managers agreeing on everything in the good old style that fighters did in the days gone by.

The lack of talk and wrangle of the old-time managers was, to say the least, refreshing, and it would be a good idea if some of the up-to-date managers followed a little the manners of Delaney and Hogan. The following are the articles as signed:

Bill Roche Will Referee Big Mill

Mike Schreck and Al Kaufman agree to box twenty rounds under the auspices of the San Francisco Athletic Club on the evening of August 10, 1907, for 50 per cent of the gross receipts, the winner to take 60 per cent of this amount and the loser 40 per cent. Both men agree to be in the ring at 9 o'clock sharp on the night of the fight or forfeit $500 out of their end of the purse to the club.

Soft surgical bandages to be allowed, subject to the inspection of the referee. It is further agreed that Billy Roche shall referee the contest. Signed: BILLY HOGAN, For Mike Schreck, BILLY DELANEY, For Al Kaufman, Alex. Gregg, John P. Sweeney.

After looking the ground over Schreck concluded to go to Miller's place at Colma, where he will have Kid Ketchel for a sparring partner. Al Kaufman dropped into town yesterday, after spending some time in the mountains at Martha Springs, and will locate at Clara's apartment in Alameda.

Bill Roche Will Referee Big Mill

The West Oakland club offers a card for its coming show on Tuesday evening August 20, that gives promise of being the greatest ever held in this city.

For a main event the matchmaker has secured Frankie Edwards, the amateur featherweight champion, and Smiling Jim Kane, who is about the cleverest lad appearing in San Francisco's amateur ranks.

Edwards and Kane boxed a draw at Dreamland last Friday night, it being the best of the night, and one of the best amateur goes ever witnessed in San Francisco. Both these boys have clean records and have yet to meet defeat in the featherweight class.

Edwards has won from such clever boys as Southside Jack O'Brien, Charley Lee, Joe Lenby, Jim Ford, and others. Kane's record is almost the same, besides having two wins over Charley Dunn.

In one of the specials Otto Horn, who is to meet Joe Kane in the other special go, has won from such clever boys as Southside Jack O'Brien, Charley Lee, Joe Lenby, Jim Ford, and others. Kane's record is almost the same, besides having two wins over Charley Dunn.

RANDOLPH KEEPS HIS OLD TEAM MATES GUESSING

Former Oakland Pitcher Wins Second Game of Series for Los Angeles Ball Tossers.

STANDING OF THE CLUBS.

Club	Won.	Lost.	Pct.
Los Angeles	65	51	.560
Oakland	67	69	.522
San Francisco	65	52	.556
Portland	43	72	.374

Angel Randolph twirled his best assortment of benders and twisters across the home base for the delectation of his erstwhile team-mate of Oakland yesterday and the stickers from our side of the bay were so pleased with his pretty exhibition that they politely refrained from making more than six safe swats. In consequence the second game of the series went to the league leaders.

There was plenty of action in yesterday's game and some pretty classy fielding stunts were offered up to the fans. Dillon's crew also showed a streak or two of hitting. Most of the Angel batsmen seemed to fancy what Bill Reidy had to offer and they bunched him in the most approved racetrack fashion. At least one hit fell to the lot of the Southern line-up in every inning of the contest.

Captain Dillon, of the Angels, and Umpire Derrick indulged in their daily sideline debate in the ninth inning, and at its conclusion the big Angel leader was warning his customary spot on the bench. Dillon was impotent enough to intimate that the official arbitrator did not know a strike from a ball while Carlisle was in the batter's box in the final round. He came roaring over from the bench and started in to harashard the umpire with protests from the home plate. Derrick waved his mighty right arm before it continued very long and Dillon faded away from the field of action.

Dillon was in the limelight once again during the game when he managed to steal third base while the entire Oakland team was gathered around in an effort to head him off. Nearly every man in the line-up took a hand in passing the sphere back and forth while Dillon danced up and down the base-line. Finally Devoreaux chopped the ball at the third sack and the Los Angeles captain dived to the bag in safety.

The run tallying started in the second inning, when Center Fielder Ellis cracked out a two-bagger, went to third on a passed ball and crossed the plate with the aid of Delmas, who hunted one along the line for a sacrifice. The one in the fourth was made by Dillon, who tipped off a single, went to second when Cravath was passed, stole third and crossed the plate while Eagan was throwing Smith out at first. The final tally of the southerners was scored in the eighth, when Cravath singled, moved to second on a sacrifice, and spiked the rubber on a drive to left by Bartie Delmas.

The only run made by the Commuters was scored in the eighth inning when Smith singled to center, and angled the balance of the way on Truck Eagan's long double to the fence.

Oakland pulled off two good double plays. In the fourth, with Smith on first and Cravath on third, Delmas lifted a long fly to Heilmuller in right. Heine got the ball to first ahead of Smith, who had taken the lead and Bigbie slammed the ball to Bliss in time to catch Cravath who was making a hurry-up rush from third. Bigbie speared a hot liner from Carlisle's bat in the seventh and doubled Bernard at second.

In today's game Derrick will have an assistant. James J. Kelly, an umpire who has been officiating in the Nevada State League, will share the umpire's work with the present decider. Kelly looks as if he would be a good man to handle the players who have a kick coming. The score:

WEST OAKLAND CLUB HAS BEST CARD FOR SOME TIME

FRANKIE EDWARDS, WHO WILL MEET "SMILING" JIM KANE AT WEST OAKLAND.

Jim Kane and Frank Edwards in Main Event --- Otto Horn Will Again Tackle Jerry Fairbanks.

The West Oakland club offers a card for its coming show on Tuesday evening August 20, that gives promise of being the greatest ever held in this city.

For a main event the matchmaker has secured Frankie Edwards, the amateur featherweight champion, and Smiling Jim Kane, who is about the cleverest lad appearing in San Francisco's amateur ranks.

Edwards and Kane boxed a draw at Dreamland last Friday night, it being the best of the night, and one of the best amateur goes ever witnessed in San Francisco. Both these boys have clean records and have yet to meet defeat in the featherweight class.

Edwards has won from such clever boys as Southside Jack O'Brien, Charley Lee, Joe Lenby, Jim Ford, and others. Kane's record is almost the same, besides having two wins over Charley Dunn.

In one of the specials Otto Horn, who is to meet Joe Kane in the other special go, has won from such clever boys as Southside Jack O'Brien, Charley Lee, Joe Lenby, Jim Ford, and others. Kane's record is almost the same, besides having two wins over Charley Dunn.

JACKSONS WANT TO HEAR FROM PENSACOLA TEAM

The Jackson Furniture company's baseball team agreed to play the Pensacolas at Goat Island Sunday. The Jacksons were at the mole at the time specified by the manager of the Pensacolas, but the launch and cutter from the island failed to show. The Jacksons do not claim the game as they do not think the Pensacolas intentionally disappointed them, but there must have been a misunderstanding. They expect to hear from the Pensacolas and play them in the near future.
